BRITISH GAIN GROUND

Boers Driven Back, Fighting Stubbornly.

POSITIONS TAKEN ONE BY ONE.

Warren Captured a Plain, Which Was Key to the Boer Position—Buller Said He Thought He Was Making Some Progress.

SPEARMAN'S CAMP, Jan. 22.—After ten hours of continual and terrible fire Generals Hart and Clery advanced 1,000 yards. The Boers maintained an irregular fire during the night, but the British outposts did not reply.

Sunday morning at daybreak the Boers opened a stiff fire. The British stood to the guns, where they had slept, and the engagement was renewed vigorously. The field artillery poured shrapnel into the enemy's trenches.

The first kopje was carried at the point of the bayonet, and the Boers retreated to the next kopje, which, like a lengthy Boer position on the northern ridge of Spion kop. A heavy bombardment by a field battery preceded the advance. The Boers eventually replied with two guns, several machine guns and rifles. The British responded similarly and long range firing became general, lasting until dark.

General Buller drew the Boers from a splendid position simultaneously by a demonstration on their frontal position, drawing a feeble fire from their Nordenfeldts and rifles. The British naval guns and howitzers shelled the trenches with excellent effect and many Boers were observed bolting. The British artillery completely silenced the Boer fire, and at nightfall the British infantry occupied an excellent advanced position.

SPEARSMAN'S CAMP, Jan. 20.—That portion of General Buller's forces which is under command of General Warren has fought a deliberately planned and successful battle. This important engagement took place to the west of Spionkop, and has practically resulted in our securing a rough tableland which constitutes the key to the Boer position.

NEARER TO MAFEKING.

Plumer's Force Reported at Grabonas—Boers Compelled to Move Back Their Guns.

LOURENZO MARQUES, Jan. 22.—A dispatch from Gaberones, undated, said:

Colonel Plumer has worked down this far toward Mafeking with three armored trains and a relieving force. The bridge is being rebuilt so that he may proceed.

MAFEKING, Jan. 6, by runner to Moclendi, Jan. 14, via Lourenso Marques, Jan. 21.—We concentrated our artillery, consisting of a seven-pounder, a Nordenfeldt and one little old ship's gun, on Jan. 3, emplacing during the darkness so as to bear on the enemy's big siege gun. We carefully concealed the guns until the next afternoon, when, after the enemy had fired a couple of shells, we let loose all our pieces, firing and loading as fast as possible.

One of our shots must have thrown the enemy's siege gun out of position, for it ceased firing. With glasses we could see the Boers rapidly reinforcing that point.

The next day they moved back their guns 700 yards. They emplaced a five-pounder and proceeded to drop shells regularly into Market square.

We have made up our minds to stick it out and have food for another three months. The whole garrison is enraged at the enemy for firing upon the women's laager.

MAFEKING, Jan. 10, via Gaberones, via Lourenso Marques, Jan. 21.—The enemy continue the bombardment with field guns and an occasional 100 pound shell. They have again fired at the woman's laager, but without hurting any one.

STRONG SYMPATHY FOR BOERS.

Big Massmeeting Held in Washington. President Asked to Mediate.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 22.—A great pro-Boer massmeeting, under the auspices of the Irish societies, was held in this city.

Among those who occupied seats on the stage were Senators Mason, of Illinois; Allen, of Nebraska, and Tillman, of South Carolina. Representatives Clark, De Armond and Cochran, of Missouri; Bailey, of Texas; Carmack and Cox, of Tennessee; Rhea, Jones and Lamb, of Kentucky; Shafroth, of Colorado; Dovenor, of West Virginia; Meyer, of Louisiana; Sulzer, of New York, and Lentz, of Ohio and Mr. Van Sicken, representative of the Orange Free State at New York, and representatives of the United Irish societies and others.

Congressman Sulzer presided. Among the speakers were Senators Mason and Allen and Congressmen Clark, Lentz and others.

Resolutions were offered urging the president to offer mediation. The British were charged with using dum-dum bullets, arming savages, etc., and it was declared that the Transvaal and Orange Free State ought to be and were rightfully free.

LONG FIGHT ON SCALE

Miners' Demands Not Likely to Be Granted.

TOO HIGH, THINK OPERATORS.

President of Their Association Said the Miners Usually Asked More Than They Expected—Another Said He Thought It Was More Than They Would Get.

INDIANAPOLIS, Jan. 22.—Upward of 100 coal operators have arrived for the national conference between them and the United Mine Workers and already indications point to a vigorous and probably an extended controversy over the adjustment of the wage scale.

The publication of the demands which the miners had agreed to make of the abolition of screens and an advance of 20 cents, run-of-mine, with a differential of 7 cents, has started the operators to talking of what will be their position.

President S. M. Delzell, of the National Operators' association, who arrived from Chicago with a delegation, said his experience in the past had been that the miners usually asked more than they expected to get.

Colonel A. L. Sweet, an operator from Chicago, said: "I understand the miners ask an advance of 20 cents per ton on run-of-the-mine coal and a differential rate of 7 cents. I am inclined to believe they will never get what they are asking for. There has been no agreement reached among the operators."

Colonel George L. Pittinger, of Centralia, Ill., said: "If the miners expect to get that advance, they will be disappointed, for we cannot afford to pay that much."

Others talked in the same way. The wage scale committee of the miners decided not to change its report of a 7-cent differential and will again report this to the convention today.

SHELDON TO HAVE A TRIAL.

Will Run a Paper For a Week on Plan Outlined in "In His Steps."

TOPEKA, Kan., Jan. 22.—The Rev. Charles M. Sheldon, author of "In His Steps," is to be given an opportunity to edit a daily newspaper as he thinks a Christian daily should be edited. For the week beginning March 13 he will have absolute control of every department of the Topeka Capital—news, editorial and advertising. At the Detroit convention of the Christian Endeavor society Mr. Sheldon asked what "philanthropic gentleman in this age of munificent endowments to educational institutions, would give $1,000,000 for the creation of a great Christian daily."

The philanthropic gentleman has not appeared with the money, but, in response to the appeals of the leading citizens of Topeka, Mr. Sheldon's home town, Mr. Del Keyser, the president of the Topeka Capital company, offered to give the paper to Mr. Sheldon for one week, and the offer has been accepted. It is understood that able writers are to assist Mr. Sheldon, and that statesmen, prominent divines and editors of some of the dailies of New York, Chicago and St. Louis will help him by suggestions. Mr. Sheldon has not yet given any intimation of his plans.

ROUSED THEM TO PRAYER.

Awful Murders Caused Frankfort Clergymen to Appoint Tomorrow for Services.

FRANKFORT, Ky., Jan. 22.—The clergymen of Frankfort have decided that tomorrow shall be set apart in this city as a day of humiliation and prayer. Services will be held in the Episcopal church at three different times during the day, the first service being at 9 a. m., the second at 4 p. m. and the third at 7 p. m. The churches uniting in observance of the day include the Episcopal, Baptist, Methodist, two Presbyterian, Christian and Roman Catholic—all the churches in Frankfort.

The clergymen of the various denominations announced from their pulpits Sunday morning that the deplorable events of the last week in the city of Frankfort and the continued talk of the possible repetition of such affairs as the Colson-Scott tragedy, which is, at times indulged in by indiscreet political partisans, had rendered necessary some steps to awaken the public conscience to the dangers threatening the commonwealth of Frankfort. Prayers will be offered at all three services asking that men of both parties may be guided to act with wisdom and moderation and that the danger of further bloodshed may be safely passed by.

MOURNS OVER STEEVENS' DEATH.

The Correspondent of the Daily Mail Was Most Popular in London.

LONDON, Jan. 22.—The news of the death of G. W. Stevens, the special correspondent of the London Daily Mail, from enteric fever, Monday at Lady Smith, has been received with genuine sorrow here, where he has many friends in and out of his profession. Mr. Stevens had a distinguished career at Oxford

G. W. STEEVENS.

His first newspaper success was a series of letters which he wrote from America, headed "The Land of the Dollar." His last work before going to the Transvaal was "The Tragedy of Dreyfus," and his long stay in hot, unsanitary Rennes is thought to have undermined his constitution to an extent that made him easy prey for the fever.

Mr. Stevens made a romantic marriage a few years ago with a Mrs. Rogerson, well known in London society. She was 60 years old and Mr. Stevens was 26, but the marriage was very happy. They were devoted to each other. Mr. Stevens used to write to her daily wherever he was.

Ex-Judge Schoch Dead.

STROUDSBURG, Pa., Jan. 22.—Ex-Judge Schoch, the oldest editor in point of active and continuous service on one newspaper in the United States, died at his home here at the age of 86. Ex-Judge Schoch took charge of The Jeffersonian in 1840 and since then has been editor and publisher. He enjoyed the best of health up to two weeks ago and did work on his paper until quite recently.

MACRUM PEACE ENVOY

Brings Oom Paul's Terms to the British.

IN A LETTER TO THE PRESIDENT.

LONDON, Jan. 22.—A special dispatch from Naples said that Mr. Macrum was reported to be the bearer of a letter to President McKinley from President Kruger, in which the latter proposed peace terms based upon the statu quo, with complete independence and a seven-year franchise.

Mr. Easton, of the Washington Post, who accompanied Mr. Macrum, said, in the course of an interview at Naples, that the Boers know they must ultimately be defeated, but are determined to resist to the last. He praised the Boer tactics and expressed admiration for the bravery of both armies. The Afrikaners are regarded by Mr. Easton as "a permanent danger to the British." He asserted that, prior to the war, the Transvaal government inquired what quantity of cartridges was allowed the German troops in the Franco-Prussian war, and then ordered double the quantity.

PARIS, Jan. 22.—The Matin, referring to the arrival of Mr. Macrum in Europe, said that the object of his mission is mysterious, and asks if there be any connection between his return and the arrival of Webster Davis at Lourenso Marques, from which point he is to be taken to Pretoria in a special train sent by President Kruger.

The Matin thinks it very probable that President Kruger, having been cut off from telegraphic communication with Dr. Leyds, is resorting to the good offices of the Americans in order to communicate with the rest of the world, and the paper concludes its observations by saying:

"We shall soon know the meaning of these communications."

KRUGER'S CAR FOR DAVIS.

Has Caused Europe to Ask Whether He's On a Special Mission for McKinley.

LOURENZO MARQUES, Jan. 23.—Webster Davis, United States assistant secretary of the interior, arrived here on his way to Pretoria and called upon the governor general, Captain Alvaro da Costa Ferreira, who gave him a most courteous reception and requested him to convey a message of special friendship to President McKinley.

The Transvaal government has informed Mr. Davis that President Kruger's saloon carriage will convey him to Pretoria.

LONDON, Jan. 22.—The publication of the fact that President Kruger is sending a private car to take Webster Davis from Lourenso Marques to Pretoria caused considerable speculation here as to whether Mr. Davis, notwithstanding the denials from Washington, has not some sort of official mission.

It was thought rather singular that a simple traveler, even though an official at home, should receive so much attention. The subject attracted the continental papers, which were inquiring through the London representatives whether the British government had information with regard to the object of Davis' visit. They were reluctant to believe that one of President McKinley's assistant secretaries would take a vacation in the Transvaal and be given leave of absence from his duties for several months without some special purpose.

A recent dispatch from Washington pointed out that Mr. Davis had given up his proposed visit to the Transvaal owing to the possibility that it might be misinterpreted.

The British advanced steadily, and the Boers relaxed slightly. The latter did not show such tenacity as previously. Their Nordenfeldts fired at long intervals, and their cannon fired but seldom. Apparently the Boers were short of big ammunition.

All day the roar of musketry fire continued. The British took three Boer positions on the mountain and found shelter behind the boulders.

LONDON, Jan. 22.—General Buller sent a dispatch to the war office which contained the following: "Spearman's Camp, Jan. 21, 9 p. m.—General Warren has been engaged all day, chiefly on his left, which he has swung forward a couple of miles. The ground is very difficult, and as the fighting is all the time up hill it is difficult to say exactly how much we have gained, but I think we are making substantial progress."

The war office has received the following from General Buller, dated Spearman's camp, Jan. 21, 6:55 a. m.:

"In order to relieve the pressure on General Warren and to ascertain the strength of the enemy in front of Potgieter's drift, General Lyttleton made a reconnaissance in force yesterday. This kept the enemy in their trenches in full strength all day."

"Our casualties—Third Battalion King's Royal Rifles, 2 killed, 12 wounded, 2 missing."

The war office posted this dispatch from General Buller, dated Jan. 21, 10 a. m.:

"The following were wounded in the action near Ventor's spruit yesterday:

"Officers—Staff Colonel B. Hamilton and Major C. McGregor; Second Lancashire Fusiliers, Captain R. B. Elunt and Second Lieutenants M. G. Crofton and E. S. Barrett; First Border Rifles, Captain C. D. Vaughan and Second Lieutenant Maurier; First York and Lancashires, Second Lieutenant A. H. Keirrey; Second Dublin Fusiliers, Captain O. A. Hensley (since dead) and Major F. SUBURBAN NEWS.

SAID SHE KNEW HIM,

BUT MATTERS HAD GONE TOO FAR.

Woman Breaks a Window--Bad Money In Circulation--News of the Suburb.

Most every one in the East End knows each other, but two families there are strangers. Last Friday evening a well known resident of that part of the city went to the house of a neighbor to inquire for a domestic, whose services he desired to engage. Nearing the house in question the man was met by the small daughter of the woman who lived in the house he was going to. The mother of the girl seeing her daughter talking to a supposed stranger, started trouble. She called the supposed stranger numerous names, and in putting her head out of the window broke a large pane of glass. The man attempted to explain matters, but the woman would not listen. The arguments of the man proved to be the strongest, and he and the woman started for the fire station.

"Here is where I live," said the abused man, pointing to a house near the station.

"I know you now," responded the woman, "and don't you think we had best let the matter drop?"

The man said "no," and continued on his way to the fire station, where he told those in charge his story. The woman was not present, however, but went home and told her troubles to her husband.

IT WAS PAYDAY.

First Big Pay at Pipe Works For Over a Year.

Saturday was payday at the East End sewer pipe works. It was the first big pay distributed at that plant for over a year. While the present force of workmen is not large, the pay however amounted to several hundred dollars.

Saturday night the first kiln of brick made under the new management was fired. These bricks will not be sold, but will be used in improvements at the East End plant. The kiln fired contains about 60,000 bricks, and since the brick machine was started last Tuesday not less than 25,000 bricks have been made daily.

Lot Not Purchased Yet.

The lot on Erie street on which the trustees of the Second M. E. church intended to purchase a parsonage site has not been bought yet. One of the trustees said Saturday that matters were in such a shape that the ground could be secured any time and he did not think anything would be done in the matter until spring.

Stringing Electric Wires.

The National pottery is now being wired. The contract for this work was secured by a Steubenville firm and they have several men now at work on the job. The pottery will be lighted by electricity throughout.

Mrs. Alex Chaffin is now able to be out after a lingering illness.

Week of Prayer.

The usual week of prayer, or preparatory services, will be observed at the Second U. P. church during the week. The services will be in charge of Rev. J. R. Greene.

Another Big Slip -- Liverpool Man Fell in River--News of Grant District.

At three o'clock yesterday morning an attempt was made to gain an entrance to the house of Enoch Riley in Chester. At that time Riley and several other members of the family heard a noise about a kitchen window. Riley investigated and when he reached the kitchen saw two men leaving the yard. He called to them to stop but they started to run, going up the road to Fairview.

BOARD WALK ASSURED.

One Almost a Mile Long Will Be Built in Chester.

Those Chester people who have been circulating a paper for funds to build a board walk from the county road bridge are meeting with success, and the walk is now assured. Saturday evening over $100 had been raised and more than that amount had been promised in addition to the cash already raised. Some change in the original idea had been made. It is proposed to build the walk from the Third street bridge to the postoffice, then out Fairview avenue as far as the Cunningham spring. The entire length of the walk will be over a mile.

IN THE RIVER.

Liverpool Man In Going to Chester Church Almost Drowned.

Saturday evening William Greene, Homer Fairbanks and Nathan Stout, secured a skiff at the Broadway wharf intending to cross the river for the purpose of attending the services at the Free Methodist church. The men were out in the river only a short distance from the Ohio shore when Stout caught a line attached to the coal float. He did not let go in time and was pulled into the river. The other men seeing that he might be drowned backed the skiff, and after some hard work managed to get the man in the boat again. While doing this the oars were lost and the men decided it was better for them to walk the bridge.

Another Big Slip.

Saturday evening another big slip occurred at the narrows. The railroad tracks were covered for quite a distance, but a force of laborers worked all Saturday night and early yesterday morning the track was again clear.

More Excavating to Be Done.

Contractor McNally has made the statement that in the neighborhood of 47,000 yards of excavating is to be done in the vicinity of the narrows in the spring. This work will be done by the rail road company.

FIRST M. E. CHURCH.

Great Audiences Were Present at the Services on Sunday.

Rev. Jason Manley, well and favorably known in East Liverpool, occupied the pulpit in the morning and made a touching address from the text, "For God so loved the world that He gave His only begotten Son, that whosoever believeth in Him should not perish, but have everlasting life."

Dr. Crawford preached in the evening to an immense audience, painting in glowing imagery the visit of the twelve spies of the Israelitish army into the land of Canaan, their return to their own people, accompanied by Joshua and Caleb, bearing between them the magnificent cluster of luscious grapes, indicative of the good things which the people of Israel might have if they would avail themselves of the offer of the Lord and go up and possess the promised land.

The sermon was an unusually strong one from a spiritual standpoint, and attracted the very closest attention of those who were present.

Seventy-three persons have professed conversion since the opening of the series of meetings. Services will continue all through the present week. A sermon specially addressed to young men will be delivered by Pastor Crawford tonight, and every young man in East Liverpool has a cordial invitation to be present.

WANT ANOTHER.

East Palestine Is Well Satisfied With Its Two Potteries.

Referring to the effort being made to secure another pottery for East Palestine, the Reville Echo says: At a meeting of the members of the Ohio China company the first of the year it was decided that two new decorating kilns would be erected this winter and perhaps another biscuit kiln to accommodate increased business. At a meeting of the directors of the East Palestine Pottery company Friday, the report showed the best year's business in the history of the company. The two potteries pay out to their employees approximately $200,000 a year; besides this they pay for coal, casks, straw, etc., about $40,000 more, which is paid to people in and about East Palestine. This makes $240,000 a month the year round that come from the two potteries. Assuming that the new pottery would do as much as either of the others, the potteries would pay out $30,000 a month, or over $1,000 for each working day.

A Mahoning View.

Judge Smith, of Wellsville, is about to resign his place upon the common pleas bench for the reason that the place does not pay as much as he is able to earn as an attorney. It is not long since Judge J. B. Kennedy, of Youngstown, relinquished his place upon the bench for the same reason assigned by Judge Smith. If the salary, $2,500 a year, is not sufficient to attract good and competent men to the bench and keep them there, it should be increased. All the people are interested in having the best legal talent for judges.—Canfield Dispatch.

Lines Up the River Are Being Rushed Along Very Rapidly.

The Fort Pitt Gas company will have their lines connected up this week, and as soon as the river falls, they will complete their line to East Liverpool. They are testing the line up as far as Yellow Creek, and gas will be turned into same next week for the benefit of the consumers.—Toronto Tribune.

THEIR FIRST HORSE CAR.

The People Were So Delighted That They Rode All Day.

"I made the survey for the street car lines in the City of Mexico," said the civil engineer, "and when we got the tracks down and the cars running we had a laughable time. Young men of the first families not only ventured to act as drivers and conductors, but insisted on taking those places without wages. The thing was like a new toy to children. People paid fare or withheld it, just as they saw fit, and some would ride around for half a day. The Yankee superintendent of the lines was in a sweat all the time, but it was kicking against a stone wall.

"The tracks were single ones, with switches here and there for the cars to pass, but such little things didn't bother the drivers. Some of them would start the mules on a dead run and go clear to the end of the line, and others would pull out on a switch and go to sleep or indulge in games with the passengers. I guess it was two months before the drivers consented to give up their siesta hours. At 12 o'clock precisely the mules were brought to a halt, no matter where the car was, and the driver would walk off to eat, sleep and smoke and be gone two hours. No Mexican ever hurries. Most of the complaints received were to the effect that the cars went too fast. Even after we got things somewhat systematic, Don Pablo Chora, the president of the road, returned from a trip one day to say to the manager:

"Ah, señor, but I am afraid we shall never get our people to accept this enterprise."

"What is wrong now?" was asked.

"Why, one of our greatest merchants paid his fare to be taken to the Alameda in 20 minutes, and, lo and behold, the driver cut the time down to 15! We shall be ruined by moving folks around too quickly. Let us tie up the legs of the mules and take the whips away from the drivers!"—New Orleans Times-Democrat.

DOWN EAST CURIOSITY.

One Instance In Which It Was Not Satisfied.

It takes a down east man to ask questions, but once in awhile one of them finds his match. Jonathan overtook a gentleman who was traveling on horseback, notwithstanding the fact that he had lost one leg. His curiosity was awakened, as he rode alongside of him, to know how he chanced to meet with such a misfortune.

"Been in the army, I guess?" was the anxious inquiry.

"Never was in the army in my life, the traveler returned.

"Fit a duel, p'haps?"

"Never fought a duel, sir."

"Horse threw you off, I guess, or something of that sort?"

"No, sir, nothing of the kind."

Jonathan tried various dodges, but all to no effect. At last, almost out of patience, he determined on a direct inquiry as to the nature of the accident by which the gentleman had come to lose his leg.

"I will tell you," said the traveler, "on condition that you will promise not to ask me another question."

"Agreed, agreed!" exclaimed the eager listener joyfully.

"Well, sir," remarked the gentleman, "it was bit off!"

"Bit off?" cried Jonathan. "Waal, I declare, I'd just like to know, powerful well, what on earth bit it off!"—Christian Endeavor World.

A GREAT TRUNK LINE.

New York Capitalists Have One Planned to Run From Erie to Johnstown, Pa.

PITTSBURG, Jan. 22.—A great trunk line, extending from Erie to Johnstown, and linking the Great Lakes to the Chesapeake by a new route, is one of the important projects outlined for development in Pennsylvania this year.

A branch will reach Pittsburg and a new outlet to the Chesapeake and the Atlantic seaboard will be given this city.

The new line is said to be projected by New York capitalists, one of whom is John B. McDonald, the contractor.

Included in the scheme is a proposed line from Black Lack station, near Blairsville, to Pittsburg, entering the city by way of the Pittsburg and Western, Pittsburg Junction and the Baltimore and Ohio railroads.

LIQUOR ADVERTISING

Dr. J. C. Taggart's Timely Talk
on the Traffic.

FOLLOW UNION MEN'S EXAMPLE

and Stop Buying the Papers and Magazines That Print Advertisements for Beer and Whisky—Thinks That Would Help Keep Down the Sale of Liquor.

Yesterday morning, at the United Presbyterian church, Rev. J. C. Taggart preached a very interesting sermon from the subject, "Repentance—Its Place in the Scheme of the Gospel."

In the course of his remarks the doctor referred to the liquor traffic, saying there were many evils in our midst, and asked what the people were doing to protect the purity of the community. There was an evil that was causing sorrow and misery to enter many homes, and that was the liquor traffic. He said:

"The liquor dealers capture the best places in the city, but, not content with that, they boldly and skillfully seek to capture the most prominent positions where they display huge posters in order that all must read. In the large cities you see signs. In a recent trip to Chicago I was humiliated by seeing the picture of our President displayed as an advertisement for some kind of whisky. In the far West I saw an advertisement for whisky from our own city. In the newspapers and magazines you find advertisements for whisky, wines, liquor and beer displayed with all possible ingenuity and perseverance.

"I have noticed in the city the last few days notices posted on the telephone poles and others places calling attention to the fact that certain newspapers employ scab labor and the union men in posting the labels are trying to protect their lives and interests. I think that would be a good way to treat the newspapers and magazines that put out flaring advertisements for the liquor dealers. Why not form a league to boycott the papers that advertise the most degrading and debasing business in our midst? You all know how sensitive a publisher is as to his paid subscriptions and what an effect this would have on him. If a daily paper prints advertisements of this kind write and protest to them. Then if they fail to respond just drop the paper. It wouldn't take six months to stop it. I think we could bring forth fruit along that line."

PLAYED AT WILL.

Spirits Seemed to Have Taken Possession of a Church Organ.

An amusing incident occurred at the First M. E. church yesterday morning, as Pastor Crawford was making announcements from the pulpit. Miss Goldie Weaver was not in her position as organist at the time, when the organ commenced to give an exhibition of its own accord and began with a voluntary, causing much subdued merriment in the audience, and Basso Gray hastened to interfere with the unruly musical instrument. Rev. Crawford caused the smiles to break into audible laughter when he remarked:

"It won't play when we want it to play, and it will play when we don't want it to play."

The prospect now is that the long disturbing feature will be remedied—something wrong with the motor.

NEW TELEPHONE CO.

Asks the Court to Dissolve the Injunction Issued Against Them In Salem Case.

LISBON, Jan. 22. — [Special] — The Columbiana County Telephone company has filed an answer in the case in which Albert Hayes recently enjoined them from placing poles on a certain street in Salem, also a motion to dissolve the same which will be for hearing on Tuesday at one o'clock. It is claimed council granted the right to place the poles on Lundy street and that they in no way interfere with the rights of the public. The court will be asked to dissolve the temporary injunction and refuse to grant one that will be perpetual.

COMING ATTRACTIONS.

"Uncle Tom's Cabin."

The dramatization of Mrs. Stowe's historical story, "Uncle Tom's Cabin," has ever been a favorite with the women and children, and they always go to see the performance, no matter what the grade of excellence may be. The Palmer company is said to give the best production of the play seen in a long time. The organization consists of some of the best talent traveling. At the Grand tonight.

"Hearts of Oak"

like its companion play "Shore Acres," by the same author, deals with homely New England folks. It is perhaps more melodramatic than Shore Acres, and possesses more comedy situations. The "Hearts of Oak" quartet will contribute a pleasing portion of the entertainment. At the Grand Tuesday evening, Jan. 23.

AN EARLY PRIMARY.

It Is Stated That the Candidates Favor Holding It In February.

The Republican primaries will probably be held very early this year, and it is said the date will be February 24. It is stated that a majority of the candidates favor an early primary, and will ask the central committee to hold it in February. The matter will be settled at the meeting to be held Wednesday evening.

Going to Florida.

George E. Sebring and Frank Chamberlain, of East Palestine, will leave on February 10 for Rockledge, Florida, where they will remain for three weeks, hunting and fishing.

FOR PRESIDENT--Second Term.
WM. M'KINLEY,
of Ohio.

"Big battle expected today," as usual.

CHARLIE MACRUM has them all guessing, anyway.

STATE Treasurer Cameron didn't lose any of the cash anyhow.

PRESIDENT HADLEY, of Yale, is kept busy dodging invitations to dinner from trust magnates.

It is to be hoped that no "Absent-minded Beggar" of a Boer will pot Rudyard Kipling.

When that new county jail is erected Lisbonites will pine for something to howl about.—Salem Herald. How about the peripatetic court?

THE new Democratic "policy" for the Philippines indicates that the Democracy are getting ready to claim, "We did it!" as soon as McKinley restores order in the Orient.

GOOD FOR ARCHER:

Senator Archer, of this district, has introduced a resolution to have the legislature adjourn the first Monday in April—easily the best resolution introduced so far this session. The legislature has now been in session three weeks, 150 bills have been introduced in the house and about 30 in the senate. Only a few have been passed.

AN EXAMPLE.

The revolt in Negros, where the natives accepted American rule, is an example of what might be expected if the Democratic policy of turning the Philippines over to the natives was followed out. More and more, every day, is being shown the wisdom and soundness of the policy of that safe, conservative and capable executive, William McKinley, of Ohio.

FOUND HIS PARENTS.

Irwin Knight Has Been Located at New Cumberland:

The mother and stepfather of Thomas McCain, the 13-year-old boy, who came to this city last Friday afternoon from Willow Island, W. Va., have been located. The stepfather, Irwin Knight, came to Liverpool several years ago, but early last year moved his effects to New Cumberland where he secured work about the brick yards in that locality. Young McCain, who has been kept by Thomas Bridget since he arrived here, was seen this afternoon and said he would go to Cumberland tomorrow and attempt to locate his mother.

RIVER IS HIGH.

Marks Show the Ohio to Be Rising Four Inches an Hour.

The Allegheny and Monongahela are pouring out a great deal of water and as a result the Ohio is rapidly swelling, with excellent indications for a coal shipping stage for several days to come.

At the wharf at noon the marks showed 20 feet and rising. The river is rising at the rate of four inches an hour and reports from above assert that the Ohio will rise about five feet before it will recede. The stage today was the highest since last spring.

The Virginia went south yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock, and the several Sunday boats went up.

Frank Hanley, His Wife and Annie Green Before the Public.

This morning Annie Green called on Squire McLane and Mayor Bough and wanted Mrs. Frank Hanley arrested. She claims that last evening Frank Hanley came to her rooms in the Farmer block, where Mrs. Grant Myler resides, and was followed there by his wife who had Officer Davidson with her. When Hanley saw them coming he stepped into another room and locked the door, and Annie says Mrs. Hanley hit her on the nose. There will be no action until the story of the officer is heard.

Three Weeks.

It will be three weeks until the next meeting of Trades council. The reason for this is that there are five Wednesday in this month.

Mr. Hall Now Holds a Controlling Interest In the Concern—There Will be No Changes In the Management at Present. Other Pottery Items of Interest.

TRADE OUTLOOK

In the Pottery World Has Not Been Brighter For a Decade.

The trade outlook has not been brighter for a decade. Buying keeps up well for the time of year and potteries are kept going steadily replenishing stocks that were depleted by the holiday and regular demand, while at the same time spring lines are being prepared. The appearance of spring buyers can be looked for at any time now and, in fact, are already in evidence. Traveling men are packing their trunks for the regular trips and within eight or ten days the most of them will be away. Prices of staples will likely be higher the present year, if not in proportion to the advanced cost of materials, labor, etc., they will be put as high, at least, as the tariff on importations will permit.—China, Glass and Lamps.

LAST SAD RITES

Over the Remains of George H. Eardley Were Held Yesterday Afternoon.

The funeral of George H. Eardley, held yesterday afternoon at his late home in Third street, was one of the largest ever held in the city, and hundreds of friends were present to do the last sad honors to one whom they loved and respected. Rev. Jason B. Manley, of Dell Roy, an uncle of Mrs. Eardley officiated, assisted by Dr. Clark Crawford, pastor of the First M. E. church, this city. The music was furnished by a quartet consisting of Miss Pearl Sebring, Mrs. W. L. Murphy, Prof. H. F. Laughlin and E. K. Mackintosh, with Miss Bessie Adams at the piano. The flowers were profuse and were very beautiful. The Elks and the printers local, of which the deceased was a member, attended the funeral in a body. The pall bearers were S. T. Herbert, Ed. Dean, Ed. Gould, V. V. Roseborough, J. P. Harrington and Harry Clark. Interment was made in Riverview.

WHOSE BABY IS IT?

MR. AND MRS. HILTON FOUND IT

Beside a Fence Wrapped in an Old Piece of Woolen Cloth—The Township Trustees Are Notified—Albright Responded and the Child Is Being Well Cared For.

The township trustees are caring for a stray girl. Whose it is or where it came from is what the trustees are trying to find out.

A daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hilton, of Sarah street, is ill with typhoid fever, and Saturday night between 9 and 10 o'clock Mrs. Hilton stepped out in the yard to throw out some water, when she heard a child crying. She returned to the house and told her husband, and they went out and found the child lying beside the fence, wrapped in a square piece of old woolen cloth. Mr. Hilton went to city hall and was told to notify the township trustees. He couldn't give a description of the infant and Mr. Albright went home with him.

The child had never been washed and was evidently but a few hours old. Albright returned to the city, bought two suits of clothes for the baby and secured Mrs. Smith to care for it until the matter could be investigated.

The trustees have two people who will take the baby and care for it, but they want to get a good home if possible, or will send it to the Fairmount children's home. Mr. M. Southworth, superintendent of that institution will be communicated with.

It is the opinion of Mr. Albright that the baby was carried but a short distance and every effort will be made to find the mother.

BOAT WAS SINKING.

A Typhoid Fever Patient Was Removed to a House in Lincoln Avenue.

W. L. Perryner, who has been ill for 56 days with typhoid fever at the boat house of James Lane, near the S. C. Williams saw mill, was removed from that place to the home of George Shorts at the head of Lincoln avenue last night. The bottom of the boat house had been leaking for some time, but the river rose so rapidly last night that the craft commenced to sink. The attending physician was summoned and ordered the man removed. The trip was made in the patrol.

FOR CIRCUIT JUDGE.

J. L. LOCKE, OF CAMBRIDGE, WELL KNOWN HERE

Is In Washington Getting His Lines In Shape For the Position.

A Washington correspondent says: "J. L. Locke, of Cambridge, O., was here during the week and went with his wife and father-in-law to Old Point Comfort. On his return Locke will talk over Ohio politics with certain congressmen who live in his judicial circuit. He is credited with being a candidate for circuit judge in a big circuit, which comprises the counties of Ashtabula, Belmont, Carroll, Columbiana, Geauga, Guernsey, Harrison, Jefferson, Lake, Mahoning, Monroe, Noble, Portage and Trumbull. This means that Locke will have to confer with General Dick, Congressmen Gill, Van Vorhis, R. W. Taylor and Congressman Phillips. They all have counties in the judicial district. Mahoning and Columbiana, two big counties, are in Taylor's district, and they will have large delegations at the judicial convention and each of these may have candidates for the place."

Locke is a son of Dr. W. H. Locke, chaplain at Mansfield reformatory, formerly pastor of the First M. E. church, this city, and is well known to many East Liverpool people.

KICK AGAINST GARBAGE FURNACE

A Petition Is Being Circulated Today and an Attorney Will Be Present at the Board of Health This Evening—May Get Out an Injunction.

When the board of health meets this evening it will be confronted by an attorney and a petition protesting against the locating of the garbage furnace at the corner of Water and Second streets. When the announcement was made that the new furnace would be located in that part of the city the residents objected very strongly, and their objections today took the form of a petition to be presented to the board of health tonight.

The petition has been very numerous signed, and when it reaches the board this evening it will be of considerable size. All the manufacturers in the lower part of the city are taking an interest in the matter and will make a strong fight to prevent the building of the furnace in that section.

The petitioners say that it is ridiculous to think of placing the furnace right in the center of the city, when there are plenty of sites a short distance away. They also say that it would be detrimental to the health of the city to have the garbage from the suburbs hauled into the heart of the city in order to be disposed of. They say the furnace may produce no odor, but the garbage will.

They are prepared to fight the case to the end, and, if necessary, will get out an injunction to stop the erection of the furnace.

HECKATHORN IS FREE.

A LIVERPOOL MAN ENDS HIS FOUR YEAR TERM.

Bold Escape From the Penitentiary Cost Him Six Months More.

COLUMBUS, Jan. 22.—[Special]—George Heckathorn was released from the Ohio penitentiary Saturday morning, after serving four years from Columbiana county for burglary. During the state fair of 1898 he made himself famous by effecting a clever escape from the prison, but he was captured next day and returned. He was employed in the state shop, and on July 31, 1898, while a large number of visitors were going through the place, he stole a suit of citizen's clothes and after making a tour of the prison with the visitors, walked out the front gate. On the way through the prison shops he walked and talked with one of the patrol guards, who did not recognize him. Heckathorn lost nearly six months' good time for making the escape.

Heckathorn was sentenced for highway robbery. He held up John Williams, in Jethro hollow, July 3, 1896, and robbed him of $30 and valuables. He was arrested July 13 by a posse of officers at an Avondale street house.

Was Given Judgment.

A NIGHT OF MISERY.

RIDING IN A LOCKED BOX CAR WITH TWO SCARED MULES.

An Experience Which, According to the Victim, Made Sherman's Definition of War Seem Like the Description of a Sunday School Picnic.

"Well," said the Footprint to Slug Seven as he settled down on his stool and began to throw in a handful of type, "if I didn't have a time of it getting down here out of those mountains."

"Been up in the mines?" inquired Slug Seven.

"Yep," replied the Footprint. "Just came out. Footed it from Angels to Milton yesterday and rode into Stockton on a side door sleeper last night. A side door sleeper," continued the Footprint, "is not the most comfortable mode of traveling. Personally I prefer to ride on a red cushion, but the heartless and exorbitant demand of the railroad trust for spot cash compelled me to walk or come as freight. I came as freight."

"Snare," said Slug Seven.

"The unpleasant feature of the trip," continued the Footprint, "was the base betrayal of confidence on the part of the brakeman with whom I negotiated for an undisturbed passage. For a cash consideration of six bits and a drink of liquor he verbally contracted to wrybill me from Milton to the division end at Stockton. We went up street to take the drink and—well, you know how one word brings on another. By train time the $4 I had sunk in my jeans had been fished to the surface and sent across the bar for red liquor."

"The brakeman was full when he started for the yards. So was I when I started after him. The brakeman confided to me on the way through the yards that he owned the whole train and I could ride anywhere and any way I wanted to. I told him that I was surrounding at least a quart of Milton whisky and if it was all the same to him and he had a nice, dry, empty box car I would be shipped as an unbroken original package. He agreed, and we went over where the train was standing made up to find that empty. The brakeman ran a door open, gave me a hurried boost in and ran the door shut and locked it. After a bit I struck a match to look about and what do you suppose that cuss had done?"

"Give it up," said Slug Seven.

"Billed me as live stock, by gum! Fact! There I was locked in a box with two mules, both loose, and all of us good to keep company to the division end. What was that Sherman said about war? Said it was hades, didn't he? Well, it ain't. It's only an imitation. The real, orthodox, rose colored hades is to spend a night in a locked box car with two mountain ranch mules."

"It isn't a long run from Milton in, and I concluded, after the train had bumped along about three miles and those scared mules had begun to charge around and kick a rat-a-tat-tat on the sides of the car, that the only plan of campaign left to me was a flank movement and a sudden mounting of one of the animals. It wouldn't be a dream of pleasure on that mule's back, but it would be safer than dodging four rapid fire hind heels unlimbered for action. I got on the mule all right, and after a little bucking he steadied down tolerably well. The animal was evidently scared to death and seemed to take comfort in being straddled by a rider."

"Well, I was just chuckling to myself over the state of affairs in the live stock department of the Espee railway and figuring that another hour would see us in the division yards, where my friend the brakeman would open the door, when the train stopped, evidently at a siding, as I knew we weren't near a station. We bumped about a bit and I took a double wrap in the mule's ears, then we stood still while some other cars were bumped about and then I heard two short cots of the whistle and a rumble that gradually grew fainter. The train had pulled out and we were side tracked."

"We staid there till morning, too, and I rode that son of a jackass, with a backbone like the ridge of a church roof, up and down and around that car every weary minute of all that weary night. To quit riding meant to go to sleep, fall off and have the liver and high lights and half tones trampled and kicked out of me by two scared mountain mules."

and the car traveled 17 miles before being side tracked. The remaining three miles of the 20 between Milton and Stockton I made on foot, thus completing a journey of 156 miles 3 furlongs in a straight line between two given points that are but 20 miles apart, a mathematically impossible feat accomplished by one jackass with the aid of two relatives on the male side of the house."

The Footprint sighed as he paused to bite off a chew of tobacco, and Slug Seven took advantage of the opening to remark that a man who had traveled so far under such circumstances must be dry.—Chicago Inter Ocean.

Have You the Gout?

The following cure for the gout is taken from an old work: First, the person must pick a handkerchief from the pocket of a maid of 50 years who has never had a wish to change her condition; second, he must wash it in an honest miller's pond; third, he must dry it on a parson's hedge who was never covetous; fourth, he must send it to a doctor who never killed a patient; fifth, he must mark it with a lawyer's ink who never cheated a client; sixth, apply to the part affected, and a cure will speedily follow.

Honest Boy.

"I am glad there are a few honest people left. Two years ago I sent a boy around the corner to buy a postal card. I have never seen the boy to this day."

"You don't call that boy honest?"

"Yes, sir. This morning I received a postal with this on the back: 'Dear Sir—Here is your postal. I started in business with the penny you gave me and have prospered. Thanks.'—Chicago News.

Kissing and Hugging Take Time.
It's all very well for you and Nellie and Emsie to unite in millions of hugs and kisses, but please consider the time it would occupy your poor old very busy uncle. Try hugging and kissing Emsie for a minute by the watch, and I don't think you'll manage it more than 12 hours a day.—Letter of Lewis Carroll.

Bismarck's Appetite.

Among other amusing reminiscences of the late Prince Bismarck appearing in Herr John Booth's "Memoirs of the Iron Chancellor" is one relating to the latter's gargantuan capacity for eating and drinking. He told the author that the largest number of oysters he ever ate was 175. He first ordered 25; then, as they were very good, 50 more, and, consuming these, determined to eat nothing else and ordered another hundred, to the great amusement of those present. Bismarck was then 26 and had just returned from England.

Experience Versus Arithmetic.

Teacher—Johnny may stand up to recite. Now, Johnny, suppose I borrow $50 from your father and agree to pay $5 a week, how long will it be before he gets his money?

Johnny—Just one week.

Teacher—Oh, think again; that's not right!
Johnny—Yes, it is. I know my father. He'd have you up in the courts by that time.—New York World.

It Looked Suspicious.

"Isn't your neighbor Blinkinoff a drinking man?"

"I wouldn't like to give an expert opinion on the subject. I'll admit, however, that I saw him the other night trying to drive a spigot into an ash barrel, thinking that it was cider."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

A Famous Eagle.

The eagle which originally decorated the stern of the famous schooner yacht America, which first won what is now known as the America's cup, is now the sign of the Royal Eagle hotel at Ryde, Isle of Wight, overlooking the scene of the vessel's triumph over her English competitors in 1851.

Warlike Boys.

All boys in the Malagasy schools are enrolled spearmen when they have passed a certain standard. They are so adept with this weapon that at close quarters they are more to be feared than the regular troops armed with rifles and bayonets.

It is said that the first weeping willow in England was planted by Alexander Pope, the poet.

The Judge's Affidavit.

Some years ago Justice of the Peace Beasley of Missouri was personally interested in a lawsuit, being a party thereto. It was necessary for him to make an affidavit, and he deprecated the idea of making it before another justice or a notary and depriving himself of a fee. So he filled out his affidavit, swore to it before himself, signed it as justice and as witness and awaited developments. He was sure that he would win and thus be able to tax the costs up to the other side.

When the case came up before Judge Kelley, the affidavit was offered in evidence and promptly objected to, the reason being given that a justice could not swear himself.

"Let me see the affidavit," said Judge Kelley.

It was handed up to the judge, who scanned it carefully for a few moments and then asked:

"Mr. Beasley, will you kindly tell me how you appeared before yourself when you swore yourself and identified your own signature?"

"That was very easy, your honor," replied Beasley. "I borrowed a looking glass and went through the formalities before it."

Beasley was somewhat astonished when Judge Kelley sustained the objection.—Omaha World-Herald.

An Awful Mishap.

Two passengers on an Atlantic liner, one an American and the other an Englishman, did not exchange the farewell courtesies when the steamer reached her pier usual between voyagers who have occupied adjoining staterooms and hobnobbed during an ocean voyage. A plausible explanation was vouchsafed by the American.

During the voyage the Englishman persisted in fraternizing with the American in a most obtrusive and annoying manner. Within two days of Boston the Englishman one morning hunted up the American and found him in apparent despondency, gazing seaward from the hurricane deck.

"Confounded blue this morning, old chap. What's the matter?" And the Britisher slapped his companion on the back.

"Matter enough," growled the American. "Ship's lost; captain don't know which way to steer. Forgot to wind the compass last night."

The Englishman listened with mouth agape, then rushed off to tell his friends of the consequential mishap. Evidently the gullible Britisher was "pushed along" for some time until he found everybody gazing him.—Boston Post.

He Knew Playfair.

The manager of the phosphate mine was a Scotchman, tall, big boned, with the strongest Glasgow Doric in his tongue. At first he was obdurate and desired us to leave the ground and to drop the specimens which we had taken before he appeared. At last I addressed him in good Scotch and asked him whether he thought I was a mining adventurer. "Aye, that's just what ye are."

"No," I replied, "I am a Scotch professor."

"Then, if ye are, ye'll be havin a name."

"My name," I said, "is Playfair."

"Man," said my Scotch friend, "are ye Lyon Playfair?"

I assured him I was, but expressed surprise that he knew the name, to which he replied, looking from his 6 feet 2 inches with compassion on my 5 feet 4 inches, "Hoot, mon, yer name's traveled farther than yer wee legs will ever carry ye."—Letters of Lyon Playfair.

Caught the Czar.

Peter the Great was once very neatly caught in a trap by a jester attached to the court. The jester was noted for his cleverness in getting himself and his friends out of difficulties. It happened one day that a cousin of his had incurred the czar's displeasure and was about to be executed. The latter therefore presented himself before his imperial majesty to beg for a reprieve.

On seeing him approach, the czar, divining his errand, cried: "It is no good to come here. I swear I will not grant what you are going to ask."

Immediately the jester went down on his knees, saying, "I beseech your imperial highness to put that scamp cousin of mine to death."

The czar, thus caught in his own trap, could only laugh and pardon the condemned man.—Columbian.

Hope is a flatterer, but the most upright of all parasites, for she frequents the poor man's hut as well as the palace of his superiors.—Shenstone.

Putting food into a diseased stomach is like putting money into a pocket with holes. The money is lost. All its value goes for nothing. When the stomach is diseased, with the allied organs of digestion and nutrition, the food which is put into it is largely lost. The nutriment is not extracted from it. The body is weakened and the blood impoverished.

The pocket can be mended. The stomach can be cured. That sterling medicine for the stomach and blood, Doctor Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, acts with peculiar promptness and power on the organs of digestion and nutrition. It is a positive cure for almost all disorders of these organs, and cures also such diseases of the heart, blood, liver and other organs, as have their cause in a weak or diseased condition of the stomach.

There is no alcohol or other intoxicant contained in "Golden Medical Discovery."

Substitutions are imitations. Imitation money is worthless. So are imitations of Dr. Pierce's "Discovery." Get the genuine.

Mr. John L. Coughenour, of Glensavage, Somerset Co., Pa., writes: "I had been doctoring for about a year and a half, being unable to work most of the time. The doctor said I had heart disease and indigestion. My appetite was unusually poor, I was weak and nervous, and my heart kept throbbing continually, and I was short of breath. Finally I wrote to you for advice. I did not think your diagnosis was right, but I ordered six bottles of 'Golden Medical Discovery' and began its use. After using three bottles I began to improve slowly and soon went to work, and I have been working ever since."

The Old Man Had Changed.

A Lancaster county man once came to a Philadelphia portrait painter with a request that he paint a picture of his father. "Very well," said the artist; "have the old gentleman come in when next in town, and I will give him a sitting." The man replied: "He can't do dot; he is dait."

"Oh, well, then, you have a photograph of him?"

"No; I don't got no fottoGRAF of him sider."

"Well, how do you expect me to paint the portrait of your father when I cannot see him and have nothing to give me an idea of his appearance?"

"All right," said the artist, "describe him."

"Vell, my fadder was not so dall und not so short; he vas not fat und not so dln." And so the honest fellow proceeded to describe his father as he recalled him.

The artist undertook to paint the picture, and in due course it is completed, and the Lancaster county man comes in to view the results of the artist's efforts. As the canvas is disclosed he gazes long and reverently upon the picture of his departed parent. Then he feelingly remarks: "Yah, dot is mine fadder! Mine fadder vat I loafed so much! But, ach himmel, fadder, how you haf changed!"—Philadelphia Times.

A Beautiful System.

The Memphis Scimitar tells of a recent bride whose husband noticed that she was keeping an itemized account of the household expenses. In looking it over one day he noticed at the bottom of each page or two the letters "D. K. W." This somewhat puzzled him. He really found it very difficult to keep from thinking about what these letters could possibly mean. It occurred to him that possibly his wife was saving out some money to buy something for him. But then he knew that his initials were not "D. K. W." and this did not prove a satisfactory solution to the matter.

So one day when his wife was in a real good humor he took her in his arms and asked what she meant by "D. K. W. 50 cents," "D. K. W. 81" and the like.

She replied: "D. K. W. stand for 'don't know what.' Whenever I went to balance my account at the end of each page and found I had spent money for which I could not account, I just put in a sufficient amount, with the item 'D. K. W.' to make it balance just exactly."

Fast Driving in Russia.

In the larger cities of Russia there is no limit to the speed at which a horse may be driven through the public streets. The typical harness horse is the Orloff, a breed founded by Count Orloff-Chemenski, being a cross between the Arabian stallion Smetanka and imported mares, principally English.

An average roadster is 16 hands high and weighs 1,100 pounds, with heavy mane, a bushy tail that reaches nearly to the ground and "iron" limbs that show great muscular development. The favorite color is gray. Such an animal is driven through the principal streets of St. Petersburg at a furious pace, that portion near the center and beside the surface car tracks being reserved for fast driving.

During the winter months teams of two and three abreast are driven to sleighs at a three minute gait. There is racing all winter, the courses being flooded at night to provide three inches of solid ice. American pneumatic sulkeys, harness, boots, gaiting appliances, etc., are in general use.

Lord Lansdowne Visits Turner.

No one was admitted to Turner's house in Queen Anne street unless specially invited. There was a sort of little iron grille in the center of the front door, through which the old housekeeper used to look and see who was there. As an example of the rarity of visitors the late Lord Lansdowne, who was a great lover of art and a friend of Turner's, told me that after receiving no answers to his letters he resolved to beard the lion in his den. He therefore went and knocked at the door, when a shock head appeared at the iron grating, and its owner called out, "Cat's meat, I suppose?"

"Yes, cat's meat," answered his lordship and squeezed himself in.—"Millais' Life of Turner."

The Aged Minister.

If his work be in a city church, it is a grave question whether any minister can now discharge it with efficiency who is much above 50 years of age. The multitude of details in a city parish, the excitement of the life, the severe demand upon the mind and the heavy burden of responsibility call for a man in the prime of life, with an alert intellect and an unfailing body.—Ian Maclaren in Ladies' Home Journal.

"The Worstest Crime Ever."

A young negress in mourning asked the magistrate for a warrant in the Jefferson Market court.

"There is a negro who has committed the worstest crime ever," she said. "It's so awful I can't hardly tell about it. My mother died a week ago, and he done took a pawn ticket from the corpse. Now he's done took out a diamond ring on that ticket that was my mother's, and now the ring should be mine, but he won't give it to me."

"Well, that's rather bad," admitted the magistrate, signing a warrant for the offender.

The young woman returned in the afternoon in company with a well dressed negro with whom she seemed to be on very friendly terms. He was the defendant.

"What have you got to say to the charge?" the magistrate demanded of him.

"Why," the man replied smilingly, "the dead woman was my wife."

"Is he your stepfather?" asked the magistrate, turning to the girl.

"Course he is," she answered.

"And why didn't you tell me that before?"

"Cause I wanted that ring, your honor."

"Step out," said the magistrate.

A Very Foxy Fox.

A gentleman whose word cannot be doubted and who is not easily deceived tells the following:

Very early one morning he saw a fox eying most wistfully a number of wild ducks feeding in the rushy end of a highland lake. After awhile the fox, going to windward of the ducks, put afloat in the lake several bunches of dead rushes or grass, which floated down among the ducks without causing the least alarm.

After watching the effect of his preliminary fleet for a short time the fox, taking a good sized mouthful of grass in his jaws, launched himself into the water as quietly as possible, having nothing but the tips of his ears and nose above water.

In this way he drifted down among the ducks and caught a fine mallard.

Though this story seems extraordinary, it must be remembered that the fox manages to capture wild ducks, wood pigeons, hares and numberless other animals, sufficient to keep himself and family, and it is plain to be seen that in doing so he must practice many a trick that would seem improbable if related and quite beyond the instinct of animals.—Omaha World-Herald.

Killed Classical Quotations.

In tracing the decline of the use of classical quotations in legislative bodies the Boston Herald cites the case of Edward Everett, who once concluded a stately speech in congress with a long, sonorous and superbly modulated citation of a passage from Tacitus and then took his seat. No sooner was he through than up sprang a burly member from what was then a frontier state of the west. He had once been an Indian agent, and no sooner was he on his legs than he began to pour out a vehement harangue in Choctaw. After awhile the speaker called him to order.

The scene was described as very comical, but it struck the deathknell of further classical quotations in a congress that had not the ray of an idea what the unintelligible lingo of Cicero and Tacitus was driving at.

Why He Hurried.

"I fully realize that," replied the young man, who had just secured the fair one's consent. "That's why I don't want to wait."—Chicago Post.

Dr. Sharp was chairman of the board of counselors of the Pan-Presbyterian Historical Society of the United States, and in April next would have celebrated the eighteenth anniversary of his pastorate of the West Park church, this city. MORE LOCOMOTIVES FOR FRANCE.

French Railway Orders Heavy Baldwin Locomotives.

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 22.—The Baldwin Locomotive works obtained another large order for engines from France. The order, which is for 30 large ten-wheeled passenger engines, is from the Paris and Orleans railway, and is the first order for locomotives ever placed by the company with an American firm.

In design and manner of construction these engines will differ but little from the 10-wheeled passenger engines built by the Baldwin for American railways. They will be heavier than any at present in use on the Paris and Orleans railway, showing that French railway officials are awakening to the importance of heavier motive power and heavier equipment. The engines are to be shipped by Aug. 1.

ROBERTS' WEEK OF FATE.

His Case Comes Up in the House Tomorrow—Sure Not to Succeed.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 22.—The feature of the proceedings in the house this week will be the consideration of the case of Brigham H. Roberts, the Mormon representative-elect from Utah. The case has attracted intense interest all over the country. Though both the majority and minority of the committee which investigated the case agree that Mr. Roberts should not sit as a member of the house on account of alleged polygamous practices, there will be a royal struggle over the question of procedure upon which the committee has split.

The case will be called up tomorrow, and two, possibly three, days will be devoted to it. The majority of the committee hold that Mr. Roberts should be excluded, while the minority contend that he should be seated and then expelled, basing their argument for this course upon the ground that Mr. Roberts possessed all the constitutional qualifications for membership and that any attempt to exclude him, upon the theory that congress has the power to exclude him upon the theory that congress has the power to add to those qualifications, would establish a dangerous precedent that might return to plague congress in the future.

Mr. Littlefield, of Maine, and Mr. De Armond, of Missouri, who presented the minority report, will make a strong fight, and say they believe they can convince a majority of the house that the course they advocate is the only proper one to pursue. The majority of the committee, on the other hand, are confident that they will be backed by a majority of the house. Mr. Roberts is expected to make a plea in his own defense.

Should he be seated in accordance with the contention of the minority, a resolution to expel him will immediately be offered, and this doubtless will carry by an almost unanimous vote, although the majority, in their report, have insisted that, once seated, a member cannot be expelled for acts committed before he was a member of the house.

Today will be devoted to District of Columbia matters and Friday to eulogies upon the life and public services of the late Vice President Hobart.

QUAY CASE THIS WEEK.

Penrose Said He Would Press for an Early Decision in the Case.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 22.—The senate again this week will devote itself almost exclusively to speechmaking. A variety of subjects will be covered. The financial bill will remain the unfinished business, but the senate will not be held strictly to its consideration. Several set speeches probably will be made upon it, among those who are expected to speak being Senators Cockrell, Daniel and Allen. Now that a day has been agreed upon for a vote it may be expected some of the friends of the bill may speak in its defense. There will be speeches on other subjects.

The two reports on the Quay contest, it was expected, will be presented today or tomorrow, and, as this contest is a privileged question, it is not unlikely to receive early attention. Senator Penrose, who is in charge of Mr. Quay's case, says he will ask that the contest be pressed to an early decision in the senate.

The Samoan treaty will be taken up again in executive session on the motion of Senator Jones of Arkansas to reconsider the vote by which it was ratified.

BRIGHT FUTURE FOR NEGROES.

Booker T. Washington So Predicted in an Address at Chicago.

CHICAGO, Jan. 22.—Booker T. Washington addressed the Young Men's Sunday club at Quinn chapel, his subject being "The Industrial Development of the Colored Race in the United States." The speaker predicted a bright future for the colored people in this country. He appealed to his hearers to cultivate a high moral character and try to elevate men and women of the race who are less fortunate.

At the close of the address a large sum was collected for the benefit of the Tuskegee Industrial School in Maryland.

MANAGUA, Nicaragua, Jan. 22.—The Nicaraguan government will appoint Jose D. Rodriguez and Bruno Buitrage as arbitrators for Nicaragua in adjusting the difference with the Maritime Canal company. Murdered Heir's Body Found.

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 22.—The mystery surrounding the disappearance of George B. Eyre, of Chester, Pa., on Dec. 21, was partially solved when the body of Eyre was found on the shore of Raccoon island, in the Delaware river, opposite Chester. There is every indication that the theory that Eyre was murdered is the correct one.

TO OVERTHROW OUR RULE.

Leading Men Were in the Negro Plot— Details of Ambuscading of Ralston's Force.

MANILA, Jan. 22.—The escort of 50 men of Company C, Thirtieth infantry, Lieutenant Ralston commanding, which was ambushed near Lapa, consisted of 50 convalescents from the hospital who were going to rejoin the regiment. The insurgents hid in the bushes along the road and opened fire upon the pack train from three sides.

The Americans, in addition to their casualties, were compelled to abandon the train, which consisted of 22 horses. The latter, with their packs, all fell into the hands of the insurgents, who pursued the retreating escort for three miles along the road, until the Americans were reinforced.

Mail advices from Negroes brought particulars of the uprising last month in the southern part of the island, in which Lieutenant A. C. Ledyard, Sixth infantry, was killed. Instead of being an unimportant revolt of native police, as was at first reported, it appears to have been an attempt to overthrow American authority. The movement was started by the chief officials of the autonomous government, the men who were elected and inaugurated with so much ceremony last November.

Eleven of these officials, including the president and several councilors, were lodged in jail on charges of plotting treason. Several secured their release under heavy bonds, but others remained in prison.

General Smith had evidence that the revolting police were following the orders of the autonomous government which designed to use the forces under its control to overpower the Americans. The plot failed through being started prematurely, but Negroes was in a state of uneasiness for about a week. Two companies of the Twenty-sixth infantry were hurried from Iloilo to reinforce the garrison at Bacolod.

The officials arrested included some of the most prominent men in Negroes. It was believed that they will be expelled from the island.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 22.—The following dispatch came from General Otis:

MANILA, Jan. 20.—Pack train of 20 ponies transporting rations between Santo Tomas and San Pablo, Laguna province, escorted by 50 men under Lieutenant Ralston, Thirtieth infantry, ambushed yesterday; two men killed, five wounded, nine missing; pack train lost; lieutenant, with 34 men, returned to Santo Tomas with killed and wounded. Affair being investigated.

Doret, Fifty fifth infantry, struck insurgents in Batangas mountains, prepared in ambush to meet him; he killed eight, wounded three, captured 17, one Spaniard, six rifles. His casualties, two men slightly wounded.

FOR FUNERAL OF LAWTON.

Some of the Arrangements Made for Interment at Arlington.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 22.—According to arrangements already made by the war department, the remains of Major General Henry W. Lawton will be interred in the national cemetery at Arlington with full military honors the day after they reach this city. Previous to interment troops to compose the funeral escort will be assembled in this city to escort the remains from the church to the cemetery.

The remains of General Lawton are on the troopship Thomas and are expected to arrive at San Francisco about Feb. 1. Mrs. Lawton is a passenger on that vessel, and the final arrangements for the funeral will not be made until the authorities at Washington have ascertained her wishes in the matter.

It is settled, however, that the remains will be brought to Washington on a special train in charge of Major General Shafter, who will be accompanied by an aid. The itinerary of the train will not be determined until the wishes of Mrs. Lawton are known. It is probable that the trip will be made so as to permit the body to lie in state for a short time at Fort Wayne and Indianapolis.

Boers Driven Back, Fighting Stubbornly.

POSITIONS TAKEN ONE BY ONE.

Warren Captured a Plain, Which Was Key to the Boer Position—Buller Said He Thought He Was Making Some Progress.

SPEARSMAN'S CAMP, Jan. 22.—After ten hours of continual and terrible fire Generals Hart and Clery advanced 1,000 yards. The Boers maintained an irregular fire during the night, but the British outposts did not reply.

Sunday morning at daybreak the Boers opened a stiff fire. The British stood to the guns, where they had slept, and the engagement was renewed vigorously. The field artillery poured shrapnel into the enemy's trenches.

The first kopje was carried at the point of the bayonet, and the Boers retreated to the next kopje, which, like most others, was strewn with immense boulders, surmounted by mounds on the summit.

The British advanced steadily, and the Boers relaxed slightly. The latter did not show such tenacity as previously. Their Nordenfeldts fired at long intervals, and their cannon fired but seldom. Apparently the Boers were short of big ammunition.

All day the roar of musketry fire continued. The British took three Boer positions on the mountain and found shelter behind the boulders.

LONDON, Jan. 22.—General Buller sent a dispatch to the war office which contained the following: "Spearman's Camp, Jan. 21, 9 p. m.—General Warren has been engaged all day, chiefly on his left, which he has swung forward a couple of miles. The ground is very difficult, and as the fighting is all the time up hill it is difficult to say exactly how much we have gained, but I think we are making substantial progress."

The war office has received the following from General Buller, dated Spearman's camp, Jan. 21, 6:55 a. m.: "In order to relieve the pressure on General Warren and to ascertain the strength of the enemy in front of Potgieter's drift, General Lyttleton made a reconnaissance in force yesterday. This kept the enemy in their trenches in full strength all day."

The war office posted this dispatch from General Buller, dated Jan. 21, 10 a. m.:

"The following were wounded in the action near Ventor's spruit yesterday: Officers—Staff Colonel B. Hamilton and Major C. McGregor; Second Lancashire Fusiliers, Captain R. B. Blunt and Second Lieutenant M. G. Crofton and E. S. Barrett; First Border Rifles, Captain C. D. Vaughan and Second Lieutenant Maurier; First York and Lancshires, Second Lieutenant A. H. Kerrey; Second Dublin Fusiliers, Captain C. A. Hensley (since dead) and Major F. English; Second Gordons, Second Lieutenant P. D. Stewart, and 279 non-commissioned officers and men."

DURBAN, Jan. 21.—The Natal Advertiser had the following from Spearman's camp, dated yesterday:

"General Warren's column attacked

a lengthy Boer position on the northern ridge of Spion kop. A heavy bombardment by a field battery preceded the advance. The Boers eventually replied with two guns, several machine guns and rifles. The British responded similarly and long range firing became general, lasting until dark.

"General Hilyard drew the Boers from a splendid position simultaneously by a demonstration on their frontal position, drawing a feeble fire from their Nordenfeldts and rifles. The British naval guns and howitzers shelled the trenches with excellent effect and many Boers were observed bolting. The British artillery completely silenced the Boer fire, and at nightfall the British infantry occupied an excellent advanced position."

SPEARSMAN'S CAMP, Jan. 20.—That portion of General Buller's forces which is under command of General Warren has fought a deliberately planned and successful battle. This important engagement took place to the west of Spionkop, and has practically resulted in our securing a rough tableland which constitutes the key to the Boer position."

NEARER TO MAFERING.

Plumer's Force Reported at Grabonas—Boers Compelled to Move Back Their Guns.

LOURENÇO MARQUES, Jan. 22.—A dispatch from Gaborones, undated, said: Colonel Plumer has worked down this far toward Mafeking with three armed trains and a relieving force. The bridge is being rebuilt so that he may proceed.

MAFERING, Jan. 6, by runner to Mafeking, Jan. 14, via Lourenço Marques, Jan. 21.—We concentrated our artillery, consisting of a seven-pounder, a Nordenfeldt and one little old ship's gun, on Jan. 3, emplacing during the darkness so as to bear on the enemy's big siege gun. We carefully concealed the guns until the next afternoon, when, after the enemy had fired a couple of shells, we let loose all our pieces, firing and loading as fast as possible.

One of our shots must have thrown the enemy's siege gun out of position, for it ceased firing. With glasses we could see the Boers rapidly reinforcing that point.

The next day they moved back their guns 700 yards. They emplaced a five-pounder and proceeded to drop shells regularly into Market square.

We have made up our minds to stick it out and have food for another three months. The whole garrison is enraged at the enemy for firing upon the women's laager.

MAFERING, Jan. 10, via Gaborones, via Lourenço Marques, Jan. 21.—The enemy continue the bombardment with field guns and an occasional 100 pound shell. They have again fired at the woman's laager, but without hurting any one.

Big Massmeeting Held in Washington. President Asked to Mediate.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 22.—A great pro-Boer massmeeting, under the auspices of the Irish societies, was held in this city.

Among those who occupied seats on the stage were Senators Mason, of Illinois; Allen, of Nebraska, and Tillman, of South Carolina. Representatives Clark, De Armond and Cochran, of Missouri; Bailey, of Texas; Carmack and Cox, of Tennessee; Rhea, Jones and Lamb, of Kentucky; Shafroth, of Colorado; Dovenor, of West Virginia; Meyer, of Louisiana; Sulzer, of New York, and Lentz, of Ohio and Mr. Van Sicken, representative of the Orange Free State at New York, and representatives of the United Irish societies and others.

Congressman Sulzer presided. Among the speakers were Senators Mason and Allen and Congressmen Clark, Lentz and others.

Resolutions were offered urging the president to offer mediation. The British were charged with using dum-dum bullets, arming savages, etc., and it was declared that the Transvaal and Orange Free State ought to be and were rightfully free.

LONG FIGHT ON SCALE

Miners' Demands Not Likely to Be Granted.

TOO HIGH, THINK OPERATORS.

President of Their Association Said the Miners Usually Asked More Than They Expected—Another Said He Thought It Was More Than They Would Get.

INDIANAPOLIS, Jan. 22.—Upward of 100 coal operators have arrived for the national conference between them and the United Mine Workers and already indications point to a vigorous and probably an extended controversy over the adjustment of the wage scale.

The publication of the demands which the miners had agreed to make of the abolition of screens and an advance of 20 cents, run-of-mine, with a differential of 7 cents, has started the operators to talking of what will be their position.

President S. M. Ditzell, of the National Operators' association, who arrived from Chicago with a delegation, said his experience in the past had been

that the miners usually asked more than they expected to get.

Colonel A. L. Sweet, an operator from Chicago, said: "I understand the miners ask an advance of 20 cents per ton on run-of-the-mine coal and a differential rate of 7 cents. I am inclined to believe they will never get what they are asking for. There has been no agreement reached among the operators."

Colonel George L. Pittenger, of Centralia, Ill., said: "If the miners expect to get that advance, they will be disappointed, for we cannot afford to pay that much."

Others talked in the same way. The wage scale committee of the miners decided not to change its report of a 7-cent differential and will again report this to the convention today.

SHELDON TO HAVE A TRIAL.

Will Run a Paper For a Week on Plan Outlined in "In His Steps."

TOPEKA, Kan., Jan. 22.—The Rev. Charles M. Sheldon, author of "In His Steps," is to be given an opportunity to edit a daily newspaper as he thinks a christian daily should be edited. For the week beginning March 13 he will have absolute control of every department of the Topeka Capital—news, editorial and advertising. At the Detroit convention of the Christian Endeavor society Mr. Sheldon asked what "philanthropic gentleman in this age of munificent endowments to educational institutions, would give $1,000,000 for the creation of a great christian daily."

The philanthropic gentleman has not appeared with the money, but, in response to the appeals of the leading citizens of Topeka, Mr. Sheldon's home town, Mr. Del Keyser, the president of the Topeka Capital company, offered to give the paper to Mr. Sheldon for one week, and the offer has been accepted. It is understood that able writers are to assist Mr. Sheldon, and that statesmen, prominent divines and editors of some of the dailies of New York, Chicago and St. Louis will help him by suggestions. Mr. Sheldon has not yet given any intimation of his plans.

ROUSED THEM TO PRAYER.

Awful Murders Caused Frankfort Clergymen to Appoint Tomorrow for Services.

FRANKFORT, Ky., Jan. 22.—The clergymen of Frankfort have decided that tomorrow shall be set apart in this city as a day of humiliation and prayer. Services will be held in the Episcopal church at three different times during the day, the first service being at 9 a. m., the second at 4 p. m. and the third at 7 p. m. The churches uniting in observance of the day include the Episcopal, Baptist, Methodist, two Presbyterian, Christian and Roman Catholic—all the churches in Frankfort.

The clergymen of the various denominations announced from their pulpits Sunday morning that the deplorable events of the last week in the city of Frankfort and the continued talk of the possible repetition of such affairs as the Colson-Scott tragedy, which is, at times indulged in by indiscreet political partisans, had rendered necessary some steps to awaken the public conscience to the dangers threatening the commonwealth of Frankfort. Prayers will be offered at all three services asking that men of both parties may be guided to act with wisdom and moderation and that the danger of further bloodshed may be safely passed by.

MOURNS OVER STEEVENS' DEATH.

The Correspondent of the Daily Mail Was Most Popular in London.

LONDON, Jan. 22.—The news of the death of G. W. Mr. Steevens had a distinguished career at Oxford

G. W. STEEVENS.

His first newspaper success was a series of letters which he wrote from America, headed "The Land of the Dollar." His last work before going to the Transvaal was "The Tragedy of Dreyfus," and his long stay in hot, unsanitary Rennes is thought to have undermined his constitution to an extent that made him easy prey for the fever.

Mr. Steevens made a romantic marriage a few years ago with a Mrs. Rogerson, well known in London society. She was 60 years old and Mr. Steevens was 26, but the marriage was very happy. They were devoted to each other. Mr. Steevens used to write to her daily wherever he was.

MACRUM PEACE ENVOY

Brings Oom Paul's Terms to the British.

IN A LETTER TO THE PRESIDENT.

LONDON, Jan. 22.—A special dispatch from Naples said that Mr. Macrum was reported to be the bearer of a letter to President McKinley from President Kruger, in which the latter proposed peace terms based upon the status quo, with complete independence and a seven-year franchise.

Mr. Easton, of the Washington Post, who accompanied Mr. Macrum, said, in the course of an interview at Naples, that the Boers know they must ultimately be defeated, but are determined to resist to the last. He praised the Boer tactics and expressed admiration for the bravery of both armies. The Afrikaners are regarded by Mr. Easton as "a permanent danger to the British." He asserted that, prior to the war, the Transvaal government inquired what quantity of cartridges was allowed the German troops in the Franco-Prussian war, and then ordered double the quantity.

PARIS, Jan. 22.—The Matin, referring to the arrival of Mr. Macrum in Europe, said that the object of his mission is mysterious, and asks if there be any connection between his return and the arrival of Webster Davis at Lourenço Marques, from which point he is to be taken to Pretoria in a special train sent by President Kruger.

The Matin thinks it very probable that President Kruger, having been cut off from telegraphic communication with Dr. Leyds, is resorting to the good offices of the Americans in order to communicate with the rest of the world, and the paper concludes its observations by saying:

"We shall soon know the meaning of these communications."

KRUGER'S CAR FOR DAVIS.

Has Caused Europe to Ask Whether He's On a Special Mission for McKinley.

LOURENÇO MARQUES, Jan. 22.—Webster Davis, United States assistant secretary of the interior, arrived here on his way to Pretoria and called upon the governor general, Captain Alvaro da Costa Ferrer, who gave him a most courteous reception and requested him to convey a message of special friendship to President McKinley.

The Transvaal government has informed Mr. Davis that President Kruger's saloon carriage will convey him to Pretoria.

LONDON, Jan. 22.—The publication of the fact that President Kruger is sending a private car to take Webster Davis from Lourenço Marques to Pretoria caused considerable speculation here as to whether Mr. Davis, notwithstanding the denials from Washington, has not some sort of official mission.

It was thought rather singular that a simple traveler, even though an official at home, should receive so much attention. The subject attracted the continental papers, which were inquiring through the London representatives whether the British government had information with regard to the object of Davis' visit. They were reluctant to believe that one of President McKinley's assistant secretaries would take a vacation in the Transvaal and be given leave of absence from his duties for several months without some special purpose.

A recent dispatch from Washington pointed out that Mr. Davis had given up his proposed visit to the Transvaal owing to the possibility that it might be misinterpreted.

SUBURBAN NEWS.

SAID SHE KNEW HIM,

BUT MATTERS HAD GONE TOO FAR.

Woman Breaks a Window--Bad Money In Circulation--News of the Suburb.

Most every one in the East End knows each other, but two families there are strangers. Last Friday evening a well known resident of that part of the city went to the house of a neighbor to inquire for a domestic, whose services he desired to engage. Nearing the house in question the man was met by the small daughter of the woman who lived in the house he was going to. The mother of the girl seeing her daughter talking to a supposed stranger, started trouble. She called the supposed stranger numerous names, and in putting her head out of the window broke a large pane of glass. The man attempted to explain matters, but the woman would not listen. The arguments of the man proved to be the strongest, and he and the woman started for the fire station.

"Here is where I live," said the abused man, pointing to a house near the station.

"I know you now," responded the woman, "and don't you think we had best let the matter drop?"

The man said "no," and continued on his way to the fire station, where he told those in charge his story. The woman was not present, however, but went home and told her troubles to her husband.

IT WAS PAYDAY.

First Big Pay at Pipe Works For Over a Year.

Saturday was payday at the East End sewer pipe works. It was the first big pay distributed at that plant for over a year. While the present force of workmen is not large, the pay however amounted to several hundred dollars.

Saturday night the first kiln of brick made under the new management was fired. These bricks will not be sold, but will be used in improvements at the East End plant. The kiln fired contains about 60,000 bricks, and since the brick machine was started last Tuesday not less than 25,000 bricks have been made daily.

Lot Not Purchased Yet.

The lot on Erie street on which the trustees of the Second M. E. church intended to purchase a parsonage site has not been bought yet. One of the trustees said Saturday that matters were in such a shape that the ground could be secured any time and he did not think anything would be done in the matter until spring.

Stringing Electric Wires.

The National pottery is now being wired. The contract for this work was secured by a Steubenville firm and they have several men now at work on the job. The pottery will be lighted by electricity throughout.

ROBBERS TRY TO ENTER ENOCH RILEY'S HOME.

Another Big Slip—Liverpool Man Fell in River—News of Grant District.

At three o'clock yesterday morning an attempt was made to gain an entrance to the house of Enoch Riley in Chester. At that time Riley and several other members of the family heard a noise about a kitchen window. Riley investigated and when he reached the kitchen saw two men leaving the yard. He called to them to stop but they started to run, going up the road to Fairview.

BOARD WALK ASSURED.

One Almost a Mile Long Will Be Built in Chester.

Those Chester people who have been circulating a paper for funds to build a board walk from the county road bridge are meeting with success, and the walk is now assured. Saturday evening over $100 had been raised and more than that amount had been promised in addition to the cash already raised. Some change in the original idea had been made. It is proposed to build the walk from the Third street bridge to the postoffice, then out Fairview avenue as far as the Cunningham spring. The entire length of the walk will be over a mile.

IN THE RIVER.

Liverpool Man In Going to Chester Church Almost Drowned.

Saturday evening William Greene, Homer Fairbanks and Nathan Stout, secured a skiff at the Broadway wharf intending to cross the river for the purpose of attending the services at the Free Methodist church. The men were out in the river only a short distance from the Ohio shore when Stout caught a line attached to the coal float. He did not let go in time and was pulled into the river. The other men seeing that he might be drowned backed the skiff, and after some hard work managed to get the man in the boat again. While doing this the oars were lost and the men decided it was better for them to walk the bridge.

Another Big Slip.

Saturday evening another big slip occurred at the narrows. The railroad tracks were covered for quite a distance, but a force of laborers worked all Saturday night and early yesterday morning the track was again clear.

FIRST M. E. CHURCH.

Great Audiences Were Present at the Services on Sunday.

Rev. Jason Manley, well and favorably known in East Liverpool, occupied the pulpit in the morning and made a touching address from the text, "For God so loved the world that He gave His only begotten Son, that whosoever believeth in Him should not perish, but have everlasting life."

Dr. Crawford preached in the evening to an immense audience, painting in glowing imagery the visit of the twelve spies of the Israelitish army into the land of Canaan, their return to their own people, accompanied by Joshua and Caleb, bearing between them the magnificent cluster of luscious grapes, indicative of the good things which the people of Israel might have if they would avail themselves of the offer of the Lord and go up and possess the promised land.

The sermon was an unusually strong one from a spiritual standpoint, and attracted the very closest attention of those who were present.

Seventy-three persons have professed conversion since the opening of the series of meetings. Services will continue all through the present week. A sermon specially addressed to young men will be delivered by Pastor Crawford tonight, and every young man in East Liverpool has a cordial invitation to be present.

WANT ANOTHER.

East Palestine Is Well Satisfied With Its Two Potteries.

Referring to the effort being made to secure another pottery for East Palestine, the Reveille Echo says: At a meeting of the members of the Ohio China company the first of the year it was decided that two new decorating kilns would be erected this winter and perhaps another biscuit kiln to accommodate increased business. At a meeting of the directors of the East Palestine Pottery company Friday, the report showed the best year's business in the history of the company. The two potteries pay out to their employees approximately $200,000 a year; besides this they pay for coal, casks, straw, etc., about $40,000 more, which is paid to people in and about East Palestine. This makes $240,000 a month the year round that come from the two potteries. Assuming that the new pottery would do as much as either of the others, the potteries would pay out $30,000 a month, or over $1,000 for each working day.

A Mahoning View.

Judge Smith, of Wellsville, is about to resign his place upon the common pleas bench for the reason that the place does not pay as much as he is able to earn as an attorney. It is not long since Judge J. B. Kennedy, of Youngstown, relinquished his place upon the bench for the same reason assigned by Judge Smith. If the salary, $2,500 a year, is not sufficient to attract good and competent men to the bench and keep them there, it should be increased. All the people are interested in having the best legal talent for judges.—Canfield Dispatch.

FORT PITT GAS.

Lines Up the River Are Being Rushed Along Very Rapidly.

The Fort Pitt Gas company will have their lines connected up this week, and as soon as the river falls, they will complete their line to East Liverpool. They are testing the line up as far as Yellow Creek, and gas will be turned into same next week for the benefit of the consumers.—Toronto Tribune.

THEIR FIRST HORSE CAR.

The People Were So Delighted That They Rode All Day.

"I made the survey for the street car lines in the City of Mexico," said the civil engineer, "and when we got the tracks down and the cars running we had a laughable time. Young men of the first families not only ventured to act as drivers and conductors, but insisted on taking those places without wages. The thing was like a new toy to children. People paid fare or withheld it, just as they saw fit, and some would ride around for half a day. The Yankee superintendent of the lines was in a sweat all the time, but it was kicking against a stone wall.

"The tracks were single ones, with switches here and there for the cars to pass, but such little things didn't bother the drivers. Some of them would start the mules on a dead run and go clear to the end of the line, and others would pull out on a switch and go to sleep or indulge in games with the passengers. I guess it was two months before the drivers consented to give up their siesta hours. At 12 o'clock precisely the mules were brought to a halt no matter where the car was, and the driver would walk off to eat, sleep and smoke and be gone two hours. No Mexican ever hurries. Most of the complaints received were to the effect that the cars went too fast. Even after we got things somewhat systematic, Don Pablo Chora, the president of the road returned from a trip one day to say to the manager

"What is wrong now?" was asked. "Why, one of our greatest merchants paid his fare to be taken to the Alameda in 20 minutes, and, lo and behold, the driver cut the time down to 15! We shall be ruined by moving folks around too quickly. Let us tie up the legs of the mules and take the whip away from the drivers!"—New Orleans Times-Democrat.

DOWN EAST CURIOSITY.

One Instance in Which It Was Not Satisfied.

It takes a down east man to ask questions, but once in awhile one of them finds his match. Jonathan overtook a gentleman who was traveling on horse back, notwithstanding the fact that he had lost one leg. His curiosity was awakened, as he rode alongside of him, to know how he chanced to meet with such a misfortune.

"Been in the army, I guess?" was the anxious inquiry.

"Never was in the army in my life, the traveler returned.

"Never fought a duel, sir."

"Horse threw you off, I guess, or something of that sort?"

"No, sir, nothing of the kind."

Jonathan tried various dodges, but all to no effect. At last, almost out of patience, he determined on a direct inquiry as to the nature of the accident by which the gentleman had come to lose his leg.

"I will tell you," said the traveler, "on condition that you will promise not to ask me another question."

"Agreed, agreed!" exclaimed the eager listener joyfully.

"Well, sir," remarked the gentleman, "it was bit off!"

"Bit off?" cried Jonathan. "Waal, I declare, I'd just like to know, powerful well, what on earth bit it off!"—Christian Endeavor World.

A GREAT TRUNK LINE.

New York Capitalists Have One Planned to Run From Erie to Johnstown, Pa.

PITTSBURG, Jan. 22.—A great trunk line, extending from Erie to Johnstown, and linking the Great Lakes to the Chesapeake by a new route, is one of the important projects outlined for development in Pennsylvania this year.

A branch will reach Pittsburg and a new outlet to the Chesapeake and the Atlantic seaboard will be given this city.

The new line is said to be projected by New York capitalists, one of whom is John B. McDonald, the contractor.

Included in the scheme is a proposed line from Black Lick station, near Blairsville, to Pittsburg, entering the city by way of the Pittsburg and Western, Pittsburg Junction and the Baltimore and Ohio railroads.

LIQUOR ADVERTISING

Dr. J. C. Taggart's Timely Talk on the Traffic.

FOLLOW UNION MEN'S EXAMPLE

And Stop Buying the Papers and Magazines That Print Advertisements for Beer and Whisky—Thinks That Would Help Keep Down the Sale of Liquor.

Yesterday morning, at the United Presbyterian church, Rev. J. C. Taggart preached a very interesting sermon from the subject, "Repentance—Its Place in the Scheme of the Gospel."

In the course of his remarks the doctor referred to the liquor traffic, saying there were many evils in our midst, and asked what the people were doing to protect the purity of the community. There was an evil that was causing sorrow and misery to enter many homes, and that was the liquor traffic. He said:

"The liquor dealers capture the best places in the city, but, not content with that, they boldly and skillfully seek to capture the most prominent positions, where they display huge posters in order that all must read. In the large cities you see signs. In a recent trip to Chicago I was humiliated by seeing the picture of our President displayed as an advertisement for some kind of whisky. In the far West I saw an advertisement for whisky from our own city. In the newspapers and magazines you find advertisements for whisky, wines, liquor and beer displayed with all possible ingenuity and perseverance.

"I have noticed in the city the last few days notices posted on the telephone poles and others places calling attention to the fact that certain newspapers employ scab labor and the union men in posting the labels are trying to protect their lives and interests. I think that would be a good way to treat the newspapers and magazines that put out flaring advertisements for the liquor dealers. Why not form a league to boycott the papers that advertise the most degrading and debasing business in our midst? You all know how sensitive a publisher is as to his paid subscriptions and what an effect this would have on him. If a daily paper prints advertisements of this kind write and protest to them. Then if they fail to respond just drop the paper. It wouldn't take six months to stop it. I think we could bring forth fruit along that line."

PLAYED AT WILL.

Spirits Seemed to Have Taken Possession of a Church Organ.

An amusing incident occurred at the First M. E. church yesterday morning, as Pastor Crawford was making announcements from the pulpit. Miss Goldie Weaver was not in her position as organist at the time, when the organ commenced to give an exhibition of its own accord and began with a voluntary, causing much subdued merriment in the audience, and Basso Gray hastened to interfere with the unruly musical instrument. Rev. Crawford caused the smiles to break into audible laughter when he remarked:

The prospect now is that the long disturbing feature will be remedied—something wrong with the motor.

NEW TELEPHONE CO.

Asks the Court to Dissolve the Injunction Issued Against Them in Salem Case.

LISBON, Jan. 22. — [Special] — The Columbiana County Telephone company has filed an answer in the case in which Albert Hayes recently enjoined them from placing poles on a certain street in Salem, also a motion to dissolve the same which will be for hearing on Tuesday at one o'clock. It is claimed council granted the right to place the poles on Lundy street and that they in no way interfere with the rights of the public. The court will be asked to dissolve the temporary injunction and refuse to grant one that will be perpetual.

COMING ATTRACTIONS.

"Uncle Tom's Cabin."

The dramatization of Mrs. Stowe's historical story, "Uncle Tom's Cabin," has ever been a favorite with the women and children, and they always go to see the performance, no matter what the grade of excellence may be. The Palmer company is said to give the best production of the play seen in a long time. The organization consists of some of the best talent traveling. At the Grand tonight.

"Hearts of Oak"

like its companion play "Shore Acres," by the same author, deals with homely New England folks. It is perhaps more melodramatic than Shore Acres, and possesses more comedy situations. The "Hearts of Oak" quartet will contribute a pleasing portion of the entertainment. At the Grand Tuesday evening, Jan. 23.

AN EARLY PRIMARY.

It Is Stated That the Candidates Favor Holding It In February.

The Republican primaries will probably be held very early this year, and it is said the date will be February 24. It is stated that a majority of the candidates favor an early primary, and will ask the central committee to hold it in February. The matter will be settled at the meeting to be held Wednesday evening.

Going to Florida.

FOR PRESIDENT--Second Term.
WM. MCKINLEY,
of Ohio.

"Big battle expected today," as usual.

CHARLIE MACRUM has them all guessing, anyway.

STATE Treasurer Cameron didn't lose any of the cash anyhow.

PRESIDENT HADLEY, of Yale, is kept busy dodging invitations to dinner from trust magnates.

It is to be hoped that no "Absent-minded Beggar" of a Boer will pot Rudyard Kipling.

WHEN that new county jail is erected Lisbonites will pine for something to howl about.—Salem Herald. How about the peripatetic court?

THE new Democratic "policy" for the Philippines indicates that the Democracy are getting ready to claim, "We did it!" as soon as McKinley restores order in the Orient.

GOOD FOR ARCHER!

Senator Archer, of this district, has introduced a resolution to have the legislature adjourn the first Monday in April—easily the best resolution introduced so far this session. The legislature has now been in session three weeks, 150 bills have been introduced in the house and about 30 in the senate. Only a few have been passed.

AN EXAMPLE.

The revolt in Negros, where the natives accepted American rule, is an example of what might be expected if the Democratic policy of turning the Philippines over to the natives was followed out. More and more, every day, is being shown the wisdom and soundness of the policy of that safe, conservative and capable executive, William McKinley, of Ohio.

FOUND HIS PARENTS.

Irwin Knight Has Been Located at New Cumberland.

The mother and stepfather of Thomas McCain, the 13-year-old boy, who came to this city last Friday afternoon from Willow Island, W. Va., have been located. The stepfather, Irwin Knight, came to Liverpool several years ago, but early last year moved his effects to New Cumberland where he secured work about the brick yards in that locality. Young McCain, who has been kept by Thomas Bridget since he arrived here, was seen this afternoon and said he would go to Cumberland tomorrow and attempt to locate his mother.

RIVER IS HIGH.

Marks Show the Ohio to Be Rising Four Inches an Hour.

The Allegheny and Monongahela are pouring out a great deal of water and as a result the Ohio is rapidly swelling, with excellent indications for a coal shipping stage for several days to come. At the wharf at noon the marks showed 20 feet and rising. The river is rising at the rate of four inches an hour and reports from above assert that the Ohio will rise about five feet before it will recede. The stage today was the highest since last spring.

The Virginia went south yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock, and the several Sunday boats went up.

Frank Hanley, His Wife and Annie Green Before the Public.

This morning Annie Green called on Squire McLane and Mayor Bough and wanted Mrs. Frank Hanley arrested. She claims that last evening Frank Hanley came to her rooms in the Farmer block, where Mrs. Grant Myler resides, and was followed there by his wife who had Officer Davidson with her. When Hanley saw them coming he stepped into another room and locked the door, and Annie says Mrs. Hanley hit her on the nose. There will be no action until the story of the officer is heard.

It will be three weeks until the next meeting of Trades council. The reason for this is that there are five Wednesday in this month.

TRADE OUTLOOK

In the Pottery World Has Not Been Brighter For a Decade.

The trade outlook has not been brighter for a decade. Buying keeps up well for the time of year and potteries are kept going steadily replenishing stocks that were depleted by the holiday and regular demand, while at the same time spring lines are being prepared. The appearance of spring buyers can be looked for at any time now and, in fact, are already in evidence. Traveling men are packing their trunks for the regular trips and within eight or ten days the most of them will be away. Prices of staples will likely be higher the present year, if not in proportion to the advanced cost of materials, labor, etc., they will be put as high, at least, as the tariff on importations will permit.—China, Glass and Lamps.

Over the Remains of George H. Eardley Were Held Yesterday Afternoon.

The funeral of George H. Eardley, held yesterday afternoon at his late home in Third street, was one of the largest ever held in the city, and hundreds of friends were present to do the last sad honors to one whom they loved and respected. Rev. Jason B. Manley, of Dell Roy, an uncle of Mrs. Eardley officiated, assisted by Dr. Clark Crawford, pastor of the First M. E. church, this city. The music was furnished by a quartet consisting of Miss Pearl Sebring, Mrs. W. L. Murphy, Prof. H. F. Laughlin and E. K. Mackintosh, with Miss Bessie Adams at the piano. The flowers were profuse and were very beautiful. The Elks and the printers local, of which the deceased was a member, attended the funeral in a body. The pall bearers were S. T. Herbert, Ed. Dean, Ed. Gould, V. V. Roseborough, J. P. Harrington and Harry Clark. Interment was made in Riverview.

WHOSE BABY IS IT?

MR. AND MRS. HILTON FOUND IT

Beside a Fence Wrapped in an Old Piece of Woolen Cloth—The Township Trustees Are Notified—Albright Responded and the Child Is Being Well Cared For.

The township trustees are caring for a stray girl. Whose it is or where it came from is what the trustees are trying to find out.

A daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hilton, of Sarah street, is ill with typhoid fever, and Saturday night between 9 and 10 o'clock Mrs. Hilton stepped out in the yard to throw out some water, when she heard a child crying. She returned to the house and told her husband, and they went out and found the child lying beside the fence, wrapped in a square piece of old woolen cloth. Mr. Hilton went to city hall and was told to notify the township trustees. He couldn't give a description of the infant and Mr. Albright went home with him.

The child had never been washed and was evidently but a few hours old. Albright returned to the city, bought two suits of clothes for the baby and secured Mrs. Smith to care for it until the matter could be investigated.

The trustees have two people who will take the baby and care for it, but they want to get a good home if possible, or will send it to the Fairmount children's home. Mr. M. Southworth, superintendent of that institution will be communicated with.

It is the opinion of Mr. Albright that the baby was carried but a short distance and every effort will be made to find the mother.

BOAT WAS SINKING.

A Typhoid Fever Patient Was Removed to a House in Lincoln Avenue.

W. L. Perryner, who has been ill for 26 days with typhoid fever at the boat house of James Lane, near the S. C. Williams saw mill, was removed from that place to the home of George Shorts at the head of Lincoln avenue last night. The bottom of the boat house had been leaking for some time, but the river rose so rapidly last night that the craft commenced to sink. The attending physician was summoned and ordered the man removed. The trip was made in the patrol.

FOR CIRCUIT JUDGE.

J. L. LOCKE, OF CAMBRIDGE, WELL KNOWN HERE

Is in Washington Getting His Lines in Shape For the Position.

A Washington correspondent says: "J. L. Locke, of Cambridge, O., was here during the week and went with his wife and father-in-law to Old Point Comfort. On his return Locke will talk over Ohio politics with certain congressmen who live in his judicial circuit. He is credited with being a candidate for circuit judge in a big circuit, which comprises the counties of Ashtabula, Belmont, Carroll, Columbiana, Geauga, Guernsey, Harrison, Jefferson, Lake, Mahoning, Monroe, Noble, Portage and Trumbull. This means that Locke will have to confer with General Dick, Congressmen Gill, Van Vorhis, R. W. Taylor and Congressman Phillips. They all have counties in the judicial district. Mahoning and Columbiana, two big counties, are in Taylor's district, and they will have large delegations at the judicial convention and each of these may have candidates for the place."

Locke is a son of Dr. W. H. Locke, chaplain at Mansfield reformatory, formerly pastor of the First M. E. church, this city, and is well known to many East Liverpool people.

KICK AGAINST GARBAGE FURNACE

A Petition Is Being Circulated Today and an Attorney Will Be Present at the Board of Health This Evening—May Get Out an Injunction.

When the board of health meets this evening it will be confronted by an attorney and a petition protesting against the locating of the garbage furnace at the corner of Water and Second streets.

When the announcement was made that the new furnace would be located in that part of the city the residents objected very strongly, and their objections today took the form of a petition to be presented to the board of health tonight.

The petition has been very numerous signed, and when it reaches the board this evening it will be of considerable size. All the manufacturers in the lower part of the city are taking an interest in the matter and will make a strong fight to prevent the building of the furnace in that section.

The petitioners say that it is ridiculous to think of placing the furnace right in the center of the city, when there are plenty of sites a short distance away. They also say that it would be detrimental to the health of the city to have the garbage from the suburbs hauled into the heart of the city in order to be disposed of. They say the furnace may produce no odor, but the garbage will.

They are prepared to fight the case to the end, and, if necessary, will get out an injunction to stop the erection of the furnace.

HECKATHORN IS FREE.

A LIVERPOOL MAN ENDS HIS FOUR YEAR TERM.

Bold Escape From the Penitentiary Cost Him Six Months More.

COLUMBUS, Jan. 22.—[Special]—George Heckathorn was released from the Ohio penitentiary Saturday morning, after serving four years from Columbiana county for burglary. During the state fair of 1898 he made himself famous by effecting a clever escape from the prison, but he was captured next day and returned. He was employed in the state shop, and on July 31, 1898, while a large number of visitors were going through the place, he stole a suit of citizen's clothes and after making a tour of the prison with the visitors, walked out the front gate. On the way through the prison shops he walked and talked with one of the patrol guards, who did not recognize him. Heckathorn lost nearly six months' good time for making the escape.

Heckathorn was sentenced for highway robbery. He held up John Williams, in Jethro hollow, July 3, 1896, and robbed him of $30 and valuables. He was arrested July 13 by a posse of officers at an Avondale street house.

A NIGHT OF MISERY.

RIDING IN A LOCKED BOX CAR WITH TWO SCARED MULES.

An Experience Which, According to the Victim, Made Sherman's Definition of War Seem Like the Description of a Sunday School Picnic.

"Well," said the Footprint to Slug Seven as he settled down on his stool and began to throw in a handful of type, "if I didn't have a time of it getting down here out of those mountains."

"Been up in the mines?" inquired Slug Seven.

"Yep," replied the Footprint. "Just came out. Footed it from Angels to Milton yesterday and rode into Stockton on a side door sleeper last night. A side door sleeper," continued the Footprint, "is not the most comfortable mode of traveling. Personally I prefer to ride on a red cushion, but the heartless and exorbitant demand of the railroad trust for spot cash compelled me to walk or come as freight. I came as freight."

"Sure," said Slug Seven.

"The unpleasant feature of the trip," continued the Footprint, "was the base betrayal of confidence on the part of the brakeman with whom I negotiated for an undisturbed passage. For a cash consideration of six bits and a drink of liquor he verbally contracted to waybill me from Milton to the division end at Stockton. We went up street to take the drink and—well, you know how one word brings on another. By train time the $4 I had sunk in my jeans had been fished to the surface and sent across the bar for red liquor."

"The brakeman was full when he started for the yards. So was I when I started after him. The brakeman confided to me on the way through the yards that he owned the whole train and I could ride anywhere and any way I wanted to. I told him that I was rounding at least a quart of Milton whisky and if it was all the same to him and he had a nice, dry, empty box car I would be shipped as an unbroken original package. He agreed, and we went over where the train was standing made up to find that empty. The brakeman ran a door open, gave me a hurried boost in and ran the door shut and locked it. After a bit I struck a match to look about and what do you suppose that cuss had done?"

"Give it up," said Slug Seven.

"Billed me as live stock, by gum! Fact! There I was locked in a box with two mules, both loose, and all of us good to keep company to the division end. What was that Sherman said about war? Said it was hades, didn't he? Well, it ain't. It's only an imitation. The real, orthodox, rose colored hades is to spend a night in a locked box car with two mountain ranch mules."

"It isn't a long run from Milton in, and I concluded, after the train had bumped along about three miles and those scared mules had begun to charge around and kick a rat-a-tat-tat on the sides of the car, that the only plan of campaign left to me was a flank movement and a sudden mounting of one of the animals. It wouldn't be a dream of pleasure on that mule's back, but it would be safer than dodging four rapid fire hind heels unlimbered for action. I got on the mule all right, and after a little bucking he steadied down tolerably well. The animal was evidently scared to death and seemed to take comfort in being straddled by a rider."

"Well, I was just chuckling to myself over the state of affairs in the live stock department of the Espee railway and figuring that another hour would see us in the division yards, where my friend the brakeman would open the door, when the train stopped, evidently at a siding, as I knew we weren't near a station. We bumped about a bit and I took a double wrap in the mule's ears, then we stood still while some other cars were bumped about and then I heard two short toots of the whistle and a rumble that gradually grew fainter. The train had pulled out and we were side tracked."

"We staid there till morning, too, and I rode that son of a jackass, with a backbone like the ridge of a church roof, up and down and around that car every weary minute of all that weary night. To quit riding meant to go to sleep, fall off and have the liver and high lights and half tones trampled and kicked out of me by two scared mountain mules."

and the car traveled 17 miles before being side tracked. The remaining three miles of the 20 between Milton and Stockton I made on foot, thus completing a journey of 156 miles 3 furlongs in a straight line between two given points that are but 20 miles apart, a mathematically impossible feat accomplished by one jackass with the aid of two relatives on the male side of the house."

The Footprint sighed as he paused to bite off a chew of tobacco, and Slug Seven took advantage of the opening to remark that a man who had traveled so far under such circumstances must be dry.—Chicago Inter Ocean.

Have You the Gout?

The following cure for the gout is taken from an old work: First, the person must pick a handkerchief from the pocket of a maid of 50 years who has never had a wish to change her condition; second, he must wash it in an honest miller's pond; third, he must dry it on a parson's hedge who was never covetous; fourth, he must send it to a doctor who never killed a patient; fifth, he must mark it with a lawyer's ink who never cheated a client; sixth, apply to the part affected, and a cure will speedily follow.

Honest Boy.

"I am glad there are a few honest people left. Two years ago I sent a boy around the corner to buy a postal card. I have never seen the boy to this day."

"You don't call that boy honest?" "Yes, sir. This morning I received a postal with this on the back: 'Dear Sir—Here is your postal. I started in business with the penny you gave me and have prospered. Thanks.'—Chicago News.

Kissing and Hugging Take Time.

It's all very well for you and Nellie and Emsie to unite in millions of hugs and kisses, but please consider the time it would occupy your poor old very busy uncle. Try hugging and kissing Emsie for a minute by the watch, and I don't think you'll manage it more than 12 hours a day.—Letter of Lewis Carroll.

Bismarck's Appetite.

Among other amusing reminiscences of the late Prince Bismarck appearing in Herr John Booth's "Memoirs of the Iron Chancellor" is one relating to the latter's gargantuan capacity for eating and drinking. He told the author that the largest number of oysters he ever ate was 175. He first ordered 25; then, as they were very good, 50 more, and, consuming these, determined to eat nothing else and ordered another hundred, to the great amusement of those present. Bismarck was then 26 and had just returned from England.

Experience Versus Arithmetic.

Teacher—Johnny may stand up to recite. Now, Johnny, suppose I borrow $50 from your father and agree to pay $5 a week, how long will it be before he gets his money?

Johnny—Just one week.

Teacher—Oh, think again; that's not right!

Johnny—Yes, it is. I know my father. He'd have you up in the courts by that time.—New York World.

It Looked Suspicious.

"Isn't your neighbor Blinkinoff a drinking man?"

"I wouldn't like to give an expert opinion on the subject. I'll admit, however, that I saw him the other night trying to drive a spigot into an ash barrel, thinking that it was cider."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

A Famous Eagle.

The eagle which originally decorated the stern of the famous schooner yacht America, which first won what is now known as the America's cup, is now the sign of the Royal Eagle hotel at Ryde, Isle of Wight, overlooking the scene of the vessel's triumph over her English competitors in 1851.

Warlike Boys.

All boys in the Malagasy schools are enrolled spearmen when they have passed a certain standard. They are so adept with this weapon that at close quarters they are more to be feared than the regular troops armed with rifles and bayonets.

It is said that the first weeping willow in England was planted by Alexander Pope, the poet.

The Judge's Affidavit.

Some years ago Justice of the Peace Beasley of Missouri was personally interested in a lawsuit, being a party thereto. It was necessary for him to make an affidavit, and he deprecated the idea of making it before another justice or a notary and depriving himself of a fee. So he filled out his affidavit, swore to it before himself, signed it as justice and as witness and awaited developments. He was sure that he would win and thus be able to tax the costs up to the other side.

When the case came up before Judge Kelley, the affidavit was offered in evidence and promptly objected to, the reason being given that a justice could not swear himself.

"Let me see the affidavit," said Judge Kelley.

It was handed up to the judge, who scanned it carefully for a few moments and then asked:

"Mr. Beasley, will you kindly tell me how you appeared before yourself when you swore yourself and identified your own signature?"

Beasley was somewhat astonished when Judge Kelley sustained the objection.—Omaha World-Herald.

An Awful Mishap.

Two passengers on an Atlantic liner, one an American and the other an Englishman, did not exchange the farewell courtesies when the steamer reached her pier usual between voyagers who have occupied adjoining staterooms and hobbled during an ocean voyage. A plausible explanation was vouchsafed by the American.

During the voyage the Englishman persisted in fraternizing with the American in a most obtrusive and annoying manner. Within two days of Boston the Englishman one morning hunted up the American and found him in apparent despondency, gazing seaward from the hurricane deck.

"Confounded blue this morning, old chap. What's the matter?" And the Britisher slapped his companion on the back.

"Matter enough," growled the American. "Ship's lost; captain don't know which way to steer. Forgot to wind the compass last night."

The Englishman listened with mouth agape, then rushed off to tell his friends of the consequential mishap. Evidently the gullible Britisher was "pushed along" for some time until he found everybody gazing him.—Boston Post.

He Knew Playfair.

The manager of the phosphate mine was a Scotchman, tall, big boned, with the strongest Glasgow Doric in his tongue. At first he was obdurate and desired us to leave the ground and to drop the specimens which we had taken before he appeared. At last I addressed him in good Scotch and asked him whether he thought I was a mining adventurer. "Aye, that's just what ye are."

"No," I replied, "I am a Scotch professor."

"Then, if ye are, ye'll be havin a name."

"My name," I said, "is Playfair."

"Man," said my Scotch friend, "are ye Lyon Playfair?"

I assured him I was, but expressed surprise that he knew the name, to which he replied, looking from his 6 feet 2 inches with compassion on my 5 feet 4 inches, "Hoot, mon, yer name's traveled farther than yer wee legs will ever carry ye."—"Letters of Lyon Playfair."

Caught the Czar.

Peter the Great was once very neatly caught in a trap by a jester attached to the court. The jester was noted for his cleverness in getting himself and his friends out of difficulties. It happened one day that a cousin of his had incurred the czar's displeasure and was about to be executed. The latter therefore presented himself before his imperial majesty to beg for a reprieve.

On seeing him approach, the czar, divining his errand, cried: "It is no good to come here. I swear I will not grant what you are going to ask."

Immediately the jester went down on his knees, saying, "I beseech your imperial highness to put that scamp cousin of mine to death."

The czar, thus caught in his own trap, could only laugh and pardon the condemned man.—Columbian.

Hope is a flatterer, but the most upright of all parasites, for she frequents the poor man's but as well as the palace of his superiors.—Shenstone.

Putting food into a diseased stomach is like putting money into a pocket with holes. The money is lost. All its value goes for nothing. When the stomach is diseased, with the allied organs of digestion and nutrition, the food which is put into it is largely lost. The nutriment is not extracted from it. The body is weakened and the blood impoverished.

The pocket can be mended. The stomach can be cured. That sterling medicine for the stomach and blood, Doctor Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, acts with peculiar promptness and power on the organs of digestion and nutrition. It is a positive cure for almost all disorders of these organs, and cures also such diseases of the heart, blood, liver and other organs, as have their cause in a weak or diseased condition of the stomach.

Substitutions are imitations. Imitation money is worthless. So are imitations of Dr. Pierce's "Discovery." Get the genuine.

Mr. John L. Coughenour, of Glensavage, Somerset Co., Pa., writes: "I had been doctoring for about a year and a half, being unable to work most of the time. The doctor said I had heart disease and indigestion. My appetite was unusually poor. I was weak and nervous, and my heart kept throbbing continually, and I was short of breath. Finally I wrote to you for advice. I did not think your diagnosis was right, but I ordered six bottles of 'Golden Medical Discovery' and began its use. After using three bottles I began to improve slowly and soon went to work and I have been working ever since."

The Old Man Had Changed.
A Lancaster county man once came to a Philadelphia portrait painter with a request that he paint a picture of his father. "Very well," said the artist; "have the old gentleman come in when next in town, and I will give him a sitting." The man replied: "He can't do dot; he is dait."

"Oh, well, then, you have a photograph of him?"
"No; I don't got no fottoğraf of him sader."

"Well, how do you expect me to paint the portrait of your father when I cannot see him and have nothing to give me an idea of his appearance?"

"All right," said the artist, "describe him."

"Vell, my fadder was not so dall und not so short; he vas not fat und not so din." And so the honest fellow proceeded to describe his father as he recalled him.

The artist undertook to paint the picture, and in due course it is completed, and the Lancaster county man comes in to view the results of the artist's efforts. As the canvas is disclosed he gazes long and reverently upon the picture of his departed parent. Then he feelingly remarks: "Yah, dot is mine fadder! Mine fadder vat I loafed so much! But, ach himmel, fadder, how you haf changed!"—Philadelphia Times.

A Beautiful System.

The Memphis Scimitar tells of a recent bride whose husband noticed that she was keeping an itemized account of the household expenses. In looking it over one day he noticed at the bottom of each page or two the letters "D. K. W." This somewhat puzzled him. He really found it very difficult to keep from thinking about what these letters could possibly mean. It occurred to him that possibly his wife was saving out some money to buy something for him. But then he knew that his initials were not "D. K. W." and this did not prove a satisfactory solution to the matter.

So one day when his wife was in a real good humor he took her in his arms and asked what she meant by "D. K. W., 50 cents," "D. K. W., $1" and the like.

She replied: "D. K. W. stand for 'don't know what.' Whenever I went to balance my account at the end of each page and found I had spent money for which I could not account, I just put in a sufficient amount, with the item 'D. K. W.' to make it balance just exactly."

Fast Driving in Russia.

In the larger cities of Russia there is no limit to the speed at which a horse may be driven through the public streets. The typical harness horse is the Orioff, a breed founded by Count Orloff-Chemenski, being a cross between the Arabian stallion Smetanka and imported mares, principally English.

An average roadster is 16 hands high and weighs 1,100 pounds, with heavy mane, a bushy tail that reaches nearly to the ground and "iron" limbs that show great muscular development. The favorite color is gray. Such an animal is driven through the principal streets of St. Petersburg at a furious pace, that portion near the center and beside the surface car tracks being reserved for fast driving.

During the winter months teams of two and three abreast are driven to sleighs at a three minute gait. There is racing all winter, the courses being flooded at night to provide three inches of solid ice. American pneumatic sulkeys, harness, boots, gaiting appliances, etc., are in general use.

Lord Lansdowne Visits Turner.

No one was admitted to Turner's house in Queen Anne street unless specially invited. There was a sort of little iron grille in the center of the front door, through which the old housekeeper used to look and see who was there. As an example of the rarity of visitors the late Lord Lansdowne, who was a great lover of art and a friend of Turner's, told me that after receiving no answers to his letters he resolved to beard the lion in his den. He therefore went and knocked at the door, when a shock head appeared at the iron grating, and its owner called out, "Cat's meat, I suppose?"

"Yes, cat's meat," answered his lordship and squeezed himself in.—"Millais' Life of Turner."

The Aged Minister.

If his work be in a city church, it is a grave question whether any minister can now discharge it with efficiency who is much above 50 years of age. The multitude of details in a city parish, the excitement of the life, the severe demand upon the mind and the heavy burden of responsibility call for a man in the prime of life, with an alert intellect and an unfailing body.—Ian Maclaren in Ladies' Home Journal.

"The Worstest Crime Ever."

A young negress in mourning asked the magistrate for a warrant in the Jefferson Market court.

"There is a negro who has committed the worstest crime ever," she said. "It's so awful I can't hardly tell about it. My mother died a week ago, and he done took a pawn ticket from the corpse. Now he's done took out a diamond ring on that ticket that was my mother's, and now the ring should be mine, but he won't give it to me."

"Well, that's rather bad," admitted the magistrate, signing a warrant for the offender.

The young woman returned in the afternoon in company with a well dressed negro with whom she seemed to be on very friendly terms. He was the defendant.

"What have you got to say to the charge?" the magistrate demanded of him.

"Why," the man replied smilingly, "the dead woman was my wife."

"Is he your stepfather?" asked the magistrate, turning to the girl.

"Course he is," she answered.

"And why didn't you tell me that before?"

"'Cause I wanted that ring, your honor."

"Step out," said the magistrate.

A Very Foxy Fox.

A gentleman whose word cannot be doubted and who is not easily deceived tells the following:

Very early one morning he saw a fox eying most wistfully a number of wild ducks feeding in the rushy end of a highland lake. After awhile the fox, going to windward of the ducks, put afloat in the lake several bunches of dead rushes or grass, which floated down among the ducks without causing the least alarm.

After watching the effect of his preliminary fleet for a short time the fox, taking a good sized mouthful of grass in his jaws, launched himself into the water as quietly as possible, having nothing but the tips of his ears and nose above water.

In this way he drifted down among the ducks and caught a fine mallard.

Though this story seems extraordinary, it must be remembered that the fox manages to capture wild ducks, wood pigeons, hares and numberless other animals, sufficient to keep himself and family, and it is plain to be seen that in doing so he must practice many a trick that would seem improbable if related and quite beyond the instinct of animals.—Omaha World-Herald.

Killed Classical Quotations.

In tracing the decline of the use of classical quotations in legislative bodies the Boston Herald cites the case of Edward Everett, who once concluded a stately speech in congress with a long, sonorous and superbly modulated citation of a passage from Tacitus and then took his seat. No sooner was he through than up sprang a burly member from what was then a frontier state of the west. He had once been an Indian agent, and no sooner was he on his legs than he began to pour out a vehement harangue in Choctaw. After awhile the speaker called him to order.

The scene was described as very comical, but it struck the deathknell of further classical quotations in a congress that had not the ray of an idea what the unintelligible lingo of Cicero and Tacitus was driving at.

Why He Hurried.

"I fully realize that," replied the young man, who had just secured the fair one's consent. "That's why I don't want to wait."—Chicago Post.

Brother-in-Law of Late Charles Clark.
PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 22.—After an illness of only three days, Rev. J. Henry Sharp, D. D., one of the most prominent ministers in the Presbyterian denomination, died at his home in this city. Dr. Sharp was chairman of the board of counsellors of the Pan-Presbyterian Historical Society of the United States, and in April next would have celebrated the eighteenth anniversary of his pastorate of the West Park church, this city. He held different positions in denominational enterprises.

Dr. Sharp was born in Cadiz, Ohio, in 1842. He attended school at Washington college, now Washington and Jefferson, and graduated from the Western Theological Seminary in Allegheny.

Dr. Sharp was a brother-in-law of the late Charles Clark, the millionaire of Pittsburgh, who died a few weeks ago.

MORE LOCOMOTIVES FOR FRANCE.

French Railway Orders Heavy Baldwin Locomotives.

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 22.—The Baldwin Locomotive works obtained another large order for engines from France. The order, which is for 30 large ten-wheeled passenger engines, is from the Paris and Orleans railway, and is the first order for locomotives ever placed by the company with an American firm.

In design and manner of construction these engines will differ but little from the 10-wheeled passenger engines built by the Baldwin for American railways. They will be heavier than any at present in use on the Paris and Orleans railway, showing that French railway officials are awakening to the importance of heavier motive power and heavier equipment. The engines are to be shipped by Aug. 1.

ROBERTS' WEEK OF FATE.

His Case Comes Up in the House Tomorrow—Sure Not to Succeed.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 22.—The feature of the proceedings in the house this week will be the consideration of the case of Brigham H. Roberts, the Mormon representative-elect from Utah. The case has attracted intense interest all over the country. Though both the majority and minority of the committee which investigated the case agree that Mr. Roberts should not sit as a member of the house on account of alleged polygamous practices, there will be a royal struggle over the question of procedure upon which the committee has split.

The case will be called up tomorrow, and two, possibly three, days will be devoted to it. The majority of the committee hold that Mr. Roberts should be excluded, while the minority contend that he should be seated and then expelled, basing their argument for this course upon the ground that Mr. Roberts possessed all the constitutional qualifications for membership and that any attempt to exclude him, upon the theory that congress has the power to exclude him upon the theory that congress has the power to add to those qualifications, would establish a dangerous precedent that might return to plague congress in the future.

Mr. Littlefield, of Maine, and Mr. De Armond, of Missouri, who presented the minority report, will make a strong fight, and say they believe they can convince a majority of the house that the course they advocate is the only proper one to pursue. The majority of the committee, on the other hand, are confident that they will be backed by a majority of the house. Mr. Roberts is expected to make a plea in his own defense.

Should he be seated in accordance with the contention of the minority, a resolution to expel him will immediately be offered, and this doubtless will carry by an almost unanimous vote, although the majority, in their report, have insisted that, once seated, a member cannot be expelled for acts committed before he was a member of the house.

Today will be devoted to District of Columbia matters and Friday to eulogies upon the life and public services of the late Vice President Hobart.

QUAY CASE THIS WEEK.

Penrose Said He Would Press for an Early Decision in the Case.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 22.—The senate again this week will devote itself almost exclusively to speechmaking. A variety of subjects will be covered. The financial bill will remain the unfinished business, but the senate will not be held strictly to its consideration. Several set speeches probably will be made upon it, among those who are expected to speak being Senators Cockrell, Daniel and Allen. Now that a day has been agreed upon for a vote it may be expected some of the friends of the bill may speak in its defense. There will be speeches on other subjects.

The two reports on the Quay contest, it was expected, will be presented today or tomorrow, and, as this contest is a privileged question, it is not unlikely to receive early attention. Senator Penrose, who is in charge of Mr. Quay's case, says he will ask that the contest be pressed to an early decision in the senate.

The Samoan treaty will be taken up again in executive session on the motion of Senator Jones of Arkansas to reconsider the vote by which it was ratified.

BRIGHT FUTURE FOR NEGROES.

Booker T. Washington So Predicted in an Address at Chicago.

CHICAGO, Jan. 22.—Booker T. Washington addressed the Young Men's Sunday club at Quinn chapel, his subject being "The Industrial Development of the Colored Race in the United States." The speaker predicted a bright future for the colored people in this country. He appealed to his hearers to cultivate a high moral character and try to elevate men and women of the race who are less fortunate.

At the close of the address a large sum was collected for the benefit of the Tuskegee Industrial School in Maryland.

To Arbitrate Canal Affair.

MANAGUA, Nicaragua, Jan. 22.—The Nicaraguan government will appoint Jose D. Rodriguez and Bruno Buitrage as arbitrators for Nicaragua in adjusting the difference with the Maritime Canal company. Murdered Heir's Body Found.

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 22.—The mystery surrounding the disappearance of George B. Eyre, of Chester, Pa., on Dec. 21, was partially solved when the body of Eyre was found on the shore of Raccoon island, in the Delaware river, opposite Chester. There is every indication that the theory that Eyre was murdered is the correct one.

TO OVERTHROW OUR RULE.

Leading Men Were in the Negro Plot—
Details of Ambuscading of Ralston's Force.

MANILA, Jan. 22.—The escort of 50 men of Company C, Thirteenth infantry, Lieutenant Ralston commanding, which was ambushed near Lina, consisted of 50 convalescents from the hospital who were going to rejoin the regiment. The insurgents hid in the bushes along the road and opened fire upon the pack train from three sides.

The Americans, in addition to their casualties, were compelled to abandon the train, which consisted of 22 horses. The latter, with their packs, all fell into the hands of the insurgents, who pursued the retreating escort for three miles along the road, until the Americans were reinforced.

Mail advices from Negros brought particulars of the uprising last month in the southern part of the island, in which Lieutenant A. C. Ledyard, Sixth infantry, was killed. Instead of being an unimportant revolt of native police, as was at first reported, it appears to have been an attempt to overthrow American authority. The movement was started by the chief officials of the autonomous government, the men who were elected and inaugurated with so much ceremony last November.

Eleven of these officials, including the president and several councilors, were lodged in jail on charges of plotting treason. Several secured their release under heavy bonds, but others remained in prison.

General Smith had evidence that the revolting police were following the orders of the autonomous government which designed to use the forces under its control to overpower the Americans. The plot failed through being started prematurely, but Negros was in a state of uneasiness for about a week. Two companies of the Twenty-sixth infantry were hurried from Iloilo to reinforce the garrison at Bacolod.

The officials arrested included some of the most prominent men in Negros. It was believed that they will be expelled from the island.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 22.—The following dispatch came from General Otis:

MANILA, Jan. 20.—Pack train of 20 ponies transporting rations between Santo Tomas and San Pablo, Laguna province, escorted by 50 men under Lieutenant Ralston, Thirtieth infantry, ambushed yesterday; two men killed, five wounded, nine missing; pack train lost; lieutenant, with 34 men, returned to Santo Tomas with killed and wounded. Affair being investigated.

Doret, Fifty fifth infantry, struck insurgents in Batangas mountains, prepared in ambush to meet him; he killed eight, wounded three, captured 17, one Spaniard, six rifles. His casualties, two men slightly wounded.

FOR FUNERAL OF LAWTON.

Some of the Arrangements Made for Interment at Arlington.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 22.—According to arrangements already made by the war department, the remains of Major General Henry W. Lawton will be interred in the national cemetery at Arlington with full military honors the day after they reach this city. Previous to interment troops to compose the funeral escort will be assembled in this city to escort the remains from the church to the cemetery.

The remains of General Lawton are on the troopship Thomas and are expected to arrive at San Francisco about Feb. 1. Mrs. Lawton is a passenger on that vessel, and the final arrangements for the funeral will not be made until the authorities at Washington have ascertained her wishes in the matter.

It is settled, however, that the remains will be brought to Washington on a special train in charge of Major General Shafter, who will be accompanied by an aid. The itinerary of the train will not be determined until the wishes of Mrs. Lawton are known. It is probable that the trip will be made so as to permit the body to lie in state for a short time at Fort Wayne and Indianapolis.

Boers Driven Back, Fighting Stubbornly.

POSITIONS TAKEN ONE BY ONE.

Warren Captured a Plain, Which Was Key to the Boer Position—Buller Said He Thought He Was Making Some Progress.

SPEARMAN'S CAMP, Jan. 22.—After ten hours of continual and terrible fire Generals Hart and Clery advanced 1,000 yards. The Boers maintained an irregular fire during the night, but the British outposts did not reply.

Sunday morning at daybreak the Boers opened a stiff fire. The British stood to the guns, where they had slept, and the engagement was renewed vigorously. The field artillery poured shrapnel into the enemy's trenches.

The first kopje was carried at the point of the bayonet, and the Boers retreated to the next kopje, which, like most others, was strewn with immense boulders, surmounted by mounds on the summit.

The British advanced steadily, and the Boers relaxed slightly. The latter did not show such tenacity as previously. Their Nordenfeldts fired at long intervals, and their cannon fired but seldom. Apparently the Boers were short of big ammunition.

All day the roar of musketry fire continued. The British took three Boer positions on the mountain and found shelter behind the boulders.

LONDON, Jan. 22.—General Buller sent a dispatch to the war office which contained the following: "Spearman's Camp, Jan. 21, 9 p. m.—General Warren has been engaged all day, chiefly on his left, which he has swung forward a couple of miles. The ground is very difficult, and as the fighting is all the time up hill it is difficult to say exactly how much we have gained, but I think we are making substantial progress."

The war office has received the following from General Buller, dated Spearman's camp, Jan. 21, 6:55 a. m.: "In order to relieve the pressure on General Warren and to ascertain the strength of the enemy in front of Potgieter's drift, General Lyttleton made a reconnaissance in force yesterday. This kept the enemy in their trenches in full strength all day.

"Our casualties—Third Battalion King's Royal Rifles, 2 killed, 12 wounded, 2 missing."

The war office posted this dispatch from General Buller, dated Jan. 21, 10 a. m.:

"The following were wounded in the action near Ventor's spruit yesterday:

"Officers—Staff Colonel E. Hamilton and Major C. McGregor; Second Lancashire Fusiliers, Captain R. B. Elunt and Second Lieutenants M. G. Crofton and E. S. Barrett; First Border Rifles, Captain C. D. Vaughan and Second Lieutenant Maurier; First York and Lancshires, Second Lieutenant A. H. Kerrey; Second Dublin Fusiliers, Captain C. A. Hensley (since dead) and Major F. English; Second Gordons, Second Lieutenant P. D. Stewart, and 279 non-commissioned officers and men."

DURBAN, Jan. 21.—The Natal Advertiser had the following from Spearman's camp, dated yesterday: "General Warren's column attacked

a lengthy Boer position on the northern ridge of Spion kop. A heavy bombardment by a field battery preceded the advance. The Boers eventually replied with two guns, several machine guns and rifles. The British responded similarly and long range firing became general, lasting until dark.

"General Hillyard drew the Boers from a splendid position simultaneously by a demonstration on their frontal position, drawing a feeble fire from their Nordenfeldts and rifles. The British naval guns and howitzers shelled the trenches with excellent effect and many Boers were observed bolting. The British artillery completely silenced the Boer fire, and at nightfall the British infantry occupied an excellent advanced position."

SPEARSMAN'S CAMP, Jan. 20.—That portion of General Buller's forces which is under command of General Warren has fought a deliberately planned and successful battle. This important engagement took place to the west of Spionkop, and has practically resulted in our securing a rough tableland which constitutes the key to the Boer position.

NEARER TO MAFEKING.

Plumer's Force Reported at Grabonas—Boers Compelled to Move Back Their Guns.

LOURENZO MARQUES, Jan. 22.—A dispatch from Gaberones, undated, said:

Colonel Plumer has worked down this far toward Mafeking with three armed trains and a relieving force. The bridge is being rebuilt so that he may proceed.

MAFEKING, Jan. 6, by runner to Moclendi, Jan. 14, via Lourenso Marques, Jan. 21.—We concentrated our artillery, consisting of a seven-pounder, a Nordenfeldt and one little old ship's gun, on Jan. 3, emplacing during the darkness so as to bear on the enemy's big siege gun. We carefully concealed the guns until the next afternoon, when, after the enemy had fired a couple of shells, we let loose all our pieces, firing and loading as fast as possible.

One of our shots must have thrown the enemy's siege gun out of position, for it ceased firing. With glasses we could see the Boers rapidly reinforcing that point.

The next day they moved back their guns 700 yards. They emplaced a five-pounder and proceeded to drop shells regularly into Market square.

We have made up our minds to stick it out and have food for another three months. The whole garrison is enraged at the enemy for firing upon the women's laager.

MAFEKING, Jan. 10, via Gaberones, via Lourenso Marques, Jan. 21.—The enemy continue the bombardment with field guns and an occasional 100 pound shell. They have again fired at the woman's laager, but without hurting any one.

STRONG SYMPATHY FOR BOERS.

Big Massmeeting Held in Washington. President Asked to Mediate.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 22.—A great pro-Boer massmeeting, under the auspices of the Irish societies, was held in this city.

Among those who occupied seats on the stage were Senators Mason, of Illinois; Allen, of Nebraska, and Tillman, of South Carolina. Representatives Clark, De Armond and Cochran, of Missouri; Bailey, of Texas; Carmack and Cox, of Tennessee; Rhea, Jones and Lamb, of Kentucky; Shafroth, of Colorado; Dovenor, of West Virginia; Meyer, of Louisiana; Sulzer, of New York, and Lentz, of Ohio and Mr. Van Sicklen, representative of the Orange Free State at New York, and representatives of the United Irish societies and others.

Congressman Sulzer presided. Among the speakers were Senators Mason and Allen and Congressmen Clark, Lentz and others.

Resolutions were offered urging the president to offer mediation. The British were charged with using dum-dum bullets, arming savages, etc., and it was declared that the Transvaal and Orange Free State ought to be and were rightfully free.

LONG FIGHT ON SCALE

Miners' Demands Not Likely to Be Granted.

TOO HIGH, THINK OPERATORS.

President of Their Association Said the Miners Usually Asked More Than They Expected—Another Said He Thought It Was More Than They Would Get.

INDIANAPOLIS, Jan. 22.—Upward of 100 coal operators have arrived for the national conference between them and the United Mine Workers and already indications point to a vigorous and probably an extended controversy over the adjustment of the wage scale.

The publication of the demands which the miners had agreed to make of the abolition of screens and an advance of 20 cents, run-of-mine, with a differential of 7 cents, has started the operators to talking of what will be their position.

President S. M. Dalzell, of the National Operators' association, who arrived from Chicago with a delegation, said his experience in the past had been

that the miners usually asked more than they expected to get.

Colonel A. L. Sweet, an operator from Chicago, said: "I understand the miners ask an advance of 20 cents per ton on run-of-the-mine coal and a differential rate of 7 cents. I am inclined to believe they will never get what they are asking for. There has been no agreement reached among the operators."

Colonel George L. Pittinger, of Centralia, Ills., said: "If the miners expect to get that advance, they will be disappointed, for we cannot afford to pay that much."

Others talked in the same way. The wage scale committee of the miners decided not to change its report of a 7-cent differential and will again report this to the convention today.

SHELDON TO HAVE A TRIAL.

Will Run a Paper for a Week on Plan Outlined in "In His Steps."

TOPEKA, Kan., Jan. 22.—The Rev. Charles M. Sheldon, author of "In His Steps," is to be given an opportunity to edit a daily newspaper as he thinks a christian daily should be edited. For the week beginning March 13 he will have absolute control of every department of the Topeka Capital—news, editorial and advertising. At the Detroit convention of the Christian Endeavor society Mr. Sheldon asked what "philanthropic gentleman in this age of munificent endowments to educational institutions, would give $1,000,000 for the creation of a great christian daily."

The philanthropic gentleman has not appeared with the money, but, in response to the appeals of the leading citizens of Topeka, Mr. Sheldon's home town, Mr. Del Keyser, the president of the Topeka Capital company, offered to give the paper to Mr. Sheldon for one week, and the offer has been accepted. It is understood that able writers are to assist Mr. Sheldon, and that statesmen, prominent divines and editors of some of the dailies of New York, Chicago and St. Louis will help him by suggestions. Mr. Sheldon has not yet given any intimation of his plans.

ROUSED THEM TO PRAYER.

Awful Murders Caused Frankfort Clergymen to Appoint Tomorrow for Services.

FRANKFORT, Ky., Jan. 22.—The clergymen of Frankfort have decided that tomorrow shall be set apart in this city as a day of humiliation and prayer. Services will be held in the Episcopal church at three different times during the day, the first service being at 9 a. m., the second at 4 p. m. and the third at 7 p. m. The churches uniting in observance of the day include the Episcopal, Baptist, Methodist, two Presbyterian, Christian and Roman Catholic—all the churches in Frankfort.

The clergymen of the various denominations announced from their pulpits Sunday morning that the deplorable events of the last week in the city of Frankfort and the continued talk of the possible repetition of such affairs as the Colson-Scott tragedy, which is, at times indulged in by indiscreet political partisans, had rendered necessary some steps to awaken the public conscience to the dangers threatening the commonwealth of Frankfort. Prayers will be offered at all three services asking that men of both parties may be guided to act with wisdom and moderation and that the danger of further bloodshed may be safely passed by.

MOURNS OVER STEEVENS' DEATH.

The Correspondent of the Daily Mail Was Most Popular in London.

LONDON, Jan. 22.—The news of the death of G. W. Mr. Stevens had a distinguished career at Oxford

His first newspaper success was a series of letters which he wrote from America, headed "The Land of the Dollar." His last work before going to the Transvaal was "The Tragedy of Dreyfus," and his long stay in hot, unsanitary Rennes is thought to have undermined his constitution to an extent that made him easy prey for the fever.

Mr. Stevens made a romantic marriage a few years ago with a Mrs. Rogerson, well known in London society. She was 60 years old and Mr. Stevens was 26, but the marriage was very happy. They were devoted to each other. Mr. Stevens used to write to her daily wherever he was.

MACRUM PEACE ENVOY

Brings Oom Paul's Terms to the British.

IN A LETTER TO THE PRESIDENT.

LONDON, Jan. 22.—A special dispatch from Naples said that Mr. Macrum was reported to be the bearer of a letter to President McKinley from President Kruger, in which the latter proposed peace terms based upon the status quo, with complete independence and a seven-year franchise.

Mr. Easton, of the Washington Post, who accompanied Mr. Macrum, said, in the course of an interview at Naples, that the Boers know they must ultimately be defeated, but are determined to resist to the last. He praised the Boer tactics and expressed admiration for the bravery of both armies. The Afrikaners are regarded by Mr. Easton as "a permanent danger to the British." He asserted that, prior to the war, the Transvaal government inquired what quantity of cartridges was allowed the German troops in the Franco-Prussian war, and then ordered double the quantity.

PARIS, Jan. 22.—The Matin, referring to the arrival of Mr. Macrum in Europe, said that the object of his mission is mysterious, and asks if there be any connection between his return and the arrival of Webster Davis at Lourenzo Marques, from which point he is to be taken to Pretoria in a special train sent by President Kruger.

The Matin thinks it very probable that President Kruger, having been cut off from telegraphic communication with Dr. Leyds, is resorting to the good offices of the Americans in order to communicate with the rest of the world, and the paper concludes its observations by saying:

"We shall soon know the meaning of these communications."

KRUGER'S CAR FOR DAVIS.

Has Caused Europe to Ask Whether He's On a Special Mission for McKinley.

LOURENZO MARQUES, Jan. 22.—Webster Davis, United States assistant secretary of the interior, arrived here on his way to Pretoria and called upon the governor general, Captain Alvaro da Costa Ferreira, who gave him a most courteous reception and requested him to convey a message of special friendship to President McKinley.

The Transvaal government has informed Mr. Davis that President Kruger's saloon carriage will convey him to Pretoria.

LONDON, Jan. 22.—The publication of the fact that President Kruger is sending a private car to take Webster Davis from Lourenzo Marques to Pretoria caused considerable speculation here as to whether Mr. Davis, notwithstanding the demands from Washington, has not some sort of official mission.

It was thought rather singular that a simple traveler, even though an official at home, should receive so much attention. The subject attracted the continental papers, which were inquiring through the London representatives whether the British government had information with regard to the object of Davis' visit. They were reluctant to believe that one of President McKinley's assistant secretaries would take a vacation in the Transvaal and be given leave of absence from his duties for several months without some special purpose.

A recent dispatch from Washington pointed out that Mr. Davis had given up his proposed visit to the Transvaal owing to the possibility that it might be misinterpreted.

SUBURBAN NEWS.

SAID SHE KNEW HIM,

BUT MATTERS HAD GONE TOO FAR.

Woman Breaks a Window--Bad Money In Circulation--News of the Suburb.

Most every one in the East End knows each other, but two families there are strangers. Last Friday evening a well known resident of that part of the city went to the house of a neighbor to inquire for a domestic, whose services he desired to engage. Nearing the house in question the man was met by the small daughter of the woman who lived in the house he was going to. The mother of the girl seeing her daughter talking to a supposed stranger, started trouble. She called the supposed stranger numerous names, and in putting her head out of the window broke a large pane of glass. The man attempted to explain matters, but the woman would not listen. The arguments of the man proved to be the strongest, and he and the woman started for the fire station.

"Here is where I live," said the abused man, pointing to a house near the station.

"I know you now," responded the woman, "and don't you think we had best let the matter drop?"

The man said "no," and continued on his way to the fire station, where he told those in charge his story. The woman was not present, however, but went home and told her troubles to her husband.

IT WAS PAYDAY.

First Big Pay at Pipe Works For Over a Year.

Saturday was payday at the East End sewer pipe works. It was the first big pay distributed at that plant for over a year. While the present force of workmen is not large, the pay however amounted to several hundred dollars.

Saturday night the first kiln of brick made under the new management was fired. These bricks will not be sold, but will be used in improvements at the East End plant. The kiln fired contains about 60,000 bricks, and since the brick machine was started last Tuesday not less than 25,000 bricks have been made daily.

Lot Not Purchased Yet.

The lot on Erie street on which the trustees of the Second M. E. church intended to purchase a parsonage site has not been bought yet. One of the trustees said Saturday that matters were in such a shape that the ground could be secured any time and he did not think anything would be done in the matter until spring.

Another Big Slip - Liverpool Man Fell in River--News of Grant District.

At three o'clock yesterday morning an attempt was made to gain an entrance to the house of Enoch Riley in Chester. He called to them to stop but they started to run, going up the road to Fairview.

BOARD WALK ASSURED.

One Almost a Mile Long Will Be Built in Chester.

Those Chester people who have been circulating a paper for funds to build a board walk from the county road bridge are meeting with success, and the walk is now assured. Saturday evening over $100 had been raised and more than that amount had been promised in addition to the cash already raised. Some change in the original idea had been made. It is proposed to build the walk from the Third street bridge to the postoffice, then out Fairview avenue as far as the Cunningham spring. The entire length of the walk will be over a mile.

IN THE RIVER.

Liverpool Man In Going to Chester Church Almost Drowned.

Saturday evening William Greene, Homer Fairbanks and Nathan Stout, secured a skiff at the Broadway wharf intending to cross the river for the purpose of attending the services at the Free Methodist church. The men were out in the river only a short distance from the Ohio shore when Stout caught a line attached to the coal float. He did not let go in time and was pulled into the river. The other men seeing that he might be drowned backed the skiff, and after some hard work managed to get the man in the boat again. While doing this the oars were lost and the men decided it was better for them to walk the bridge.

Another Big Slip.

Saturday evening another big slip occurred at the narrows. The railroad tracks were covered for quite a distance, but a force of laborers worked all Saturday night and early yesterday morning the track was again clear.

FIRST M. E. CHURCH.

Great Audiences Were Present at the Services on Sunday.

Rev. Jason Manley, well and favorably known in East Liverpool, occupied the pulpit in the morning and made a touching address from the text, "For God so loved the world that He gave His only begotten Son, that whosoever believeth in Him should not perish, but have everlasting life."

Dr. Crawford preached in the evening to an immense audience, painting in glowing imagery the visit of the twelve spies of the Israelitish army into the land of Canaan, their return to their own people, accompanied by Joshua and Caleb, bearing between them the magnificent cluster of luscious grapes, indicative of the good things which the people of Israel might have if they would avail themselves of the offer of the Lord and go up and possess the promised land.

The sermon was an unusually strong one from a spiritual standpoint, and attracted the very closest attention of those who were present.

Seventy-three persons have professed conversion since the opening of the series of meetings. Services will continue all through the present week. A sermon specially addressed to young men will be delivered by Pastor Crawford tonight, and every young man in East Liverpool has a cordial invitation to be present.

WANT ANOTHER.

East Palestine Is Well Satisfied With Its Two Potteries.

Referring to the effort being made to secure another pottery for East Palestine, the Reveille Echo says: At a meeting of the members of the Ohio China company the first of the year it was decided that two new decorating kilns would be erected this winter and perhaps another biscuit kiln to accommodate increased business. At a meeting of the directors of the East Palestine Pottery company Friday, the report showed the best year's business in the history of the company. The two potteries pay out to their employees approximately $200,000 a year; besides this they pay for coal, casks, straw, etc., about $40,000 more, which is paid to people in and about East Palestine. This makes $20,000 a month the year round that come from the two potteries. Assuming that the new pottery would do as much as either of the others, the potteries would pay out $30,000 a month, or over $1,000 for each working day.

A Mahoning View.

Judge Smith, of Wellsville, is about to resign his place upon the common pleas bench for the reason that the place does not pay as much as he is able to earn as an attorney. It is not long since Judge J. B. Kennedy, of Youngstown, relinquished his place upon the bench for the same reason assigned by Judge Smith. If the salary, $2,500 a year, is not sufficient to attract good and competent men to the bench and keep them there, it should be increased. All the people are interested in having the best legal talent for judges.—Canfield Dispatch.

THEIR FIRST HORSE CAR.

The People Were So Delighted That They Rode All Day.

"I made the survey for the street car lines in the City of Mexico," said the civil engineer, "and when we got the tracks down and the cars running we had a laughable time. Young men of the first families not only ventured to act as drivers and conductors, but insisted on taking those places without wages. The thing was like a new toy to children. People paid fare or withheld it, just as they saw fit, and some would ride around for half a day. The Yankee superintendent of the lines was in a sweat all the time, but it was kicking against a stone wall.

"The tracks were single ones, with switches here and there for the cars to pass, but such little things didn't bother the drivers. Some of them would start the mules on a dead run and go clear to the end of the line, and others would pull out on a switch and go to sleep or indulge in games with the passengers. I guess it was two months before the drivers consented to give up their siesta hours. At 12 o'clock precisely the mules were brought to a halt no matter where the car was, and the driver would walk off to eat, sleep and smoke and be gone two hours. No Mexican ever hurries. Most of the complaints received were to the effect that the cars went too fast. Even after we got things somewhat systematic, Don Pablo Chora, the president of the road returned from a trip one day to say to the manager:

"Ah, señor, but I am afraid we shall never get our people to accept this enterprise."

"What is wrong now?" was asked.

"Why, one of our greatest merchants paid his fare to be taken to the Alameda in 20 minutes, and, lo and behold, the driver cut the time down to 15! We shall be ruined by moving folk around too quickly. Let us tie up the legs of the mules and take the whips away from the drivers!"—New Orleans Times-Democrat.

DOWN EAST CURIOSITY.

One Instance in Which It Was Not Satisfied.

It takes a down east man to ask questions, but once in awhile one of them finds his match. Jonathan overtook a gentleman who was traveling on horseback, notwithstanding the fact that he had lost one leg. His curiosity was awakened, as he rode alongside of him to know how he chanced to meet with such a misfortune.

"Been in the army, I guess?" was the anxious inquiry.

"Never was in the army in my life," the traveler returned.

"Never fought a duel, sir."

"Horse threw you off, I guess, or something of that sort?"

"No, sir, nothing of the kind."

Jonathan tried various dodges, but all to no effect. At last, almost out of patience, he determined on a direct inquiry as to the nature of the accident by which the gentleman had come to lose his leg.

"I will tell you," said the traveler, "on condition that you will promise not to ask me another question."

"Agreed, agreed!" exclaimed the eager listener joyfully.

"Well, sir," remarked the gentleman, "it was bit off!"

"Bit off!" cried Jonathan. "Waal, I declare, I'd just like to know, powerful well, what on earth bit it off!"—Christian Endeavor World.

A GREAT TRUNK LINE.

New York Capitalists Have One Planned to Run From Erie to Johnstown, Pa.

PITTSBURG, Jan. 22.—A great trunk line, extending from Erie to Johnstown, and linking the Great Lakes to the Chesapeake by a new route, is one of the important projects outlined for development in Pennsylvania this year.

A branch will reach Pittsburg and a new outlet to the Chesapeake and the Atlantic seaboard will be given this city. The new line is said to be projected by New York capitalists, one of whom is John B. McDonald, the contractor.

Included in the scheme is a proposed line from Black Lick station, near Blairsville, to Pittsburg, entering the city by way of the Pittsburg and Western, Pittsburg Junction and the Baltimore and Ohio railroads.

LIQUOR ADVERTISING

Dr. J. C. Taggart's Timely Talk
on the Traffic.

FOLLOW UNION MEN'S EXAMPLE

And Stop Buying the Papers and Magazines That Print Advertisements for Beer and Whisky—Thinks That Would Help Keep Down the Sale of Liquor.

Yesterday morning, at the United Presbyterian church, Rev. J. C. Taggart preached a very interesting sermon from the subject, "Repentance—Its Place in the Scheme of the Gospel."

In the course of his remarks the doctor referred to the liquor traffic, saying there were many evils in our midst, and asked what the people were doing to protect the purity of the community. There was an evil that was causing sorrow and misery to enter many homes, and that was the liquor traffic. He said:

"The liquor dealers capture the best places in the city, but, not content with that, they boldly and skillfully seek to capture the most prominent positions, where they display huge posters in order that all must read. In the large cities you see signs. In a recent trip to Chicago I was humiliated by seeing the picture of our President displayed as an advertisement for some kind of whisky. In the far West I saw an advertisement for whisky from our own city. In the newspapers and magazines you find advertisements for whisky, wines, liquor and beer displayed with all possible ingenuity and perseverance.

"I have noticed in the city the last few days notices posted on the telephone poles and others places calling attention to the fact that certain newspapers employ scab labor and the union men in posting the labels are trying to protect their lives and interests. I think that would be a good way to treat the newspapers and magazines that put out flaring advertisements for the liquor dealers. Why not form a league to boycott the papers that advertise the most degrading and debasing business in our midst? You all know how sensitive a publisher is as to his paid subscriptions and what an effect this would have on him. If a daily paper prints advertisements of this kind write and protest to them. Then if they fail to respond just drop the paper. It wouldn't take six months to stop it. I think we could bring forth fruit along that line."

PLAYED AT WILL.

Spirits Seemed to Have Taken Possession of a Church Organ.

An amusing incident occurred at the First M. E. church yesterday morning, as Pastor Crawford was making announcements from the pulpit. Miss Goldie Weaver was not in her position as organist at the time, when the organ commenced to give an exhibition of its own accord and began with a voluntary, causing much subdued merriment in the audience, and Basso Gray hastened to interfere with the unruly musical instrument. Rev. Crawford caused the smiles to break into audible laughter when he remarked:

The prospect now is that the long disturbing feature will be remedied—something wrong with the motor.

Asks the Court to Dissolve the Injunction Issued Against Them in Salem Case.

LISBON, Jan. 22. — [Special] — The Columbiana County Telephone company has filed an answer in the case in which Albert Hayes recently enjoined them from placing poles on a certain street in Salem, also a motion to dissolve the same which will be for hearing on Tuesday at one o'clock. It is claimed council granted the right to place the poles on Lundy street and that they in no way interfere with the rights of the public. The court will be asked to dissolve the temporary injunction and refuse to grant one that will be perpetual.

COMING ATTRACTIONS.

"Uncle Tom's Cabin."

The dramatization of Mrs. Stowe's historical story, "Uncle Tom's Cabin," has ever been a favorite with the women and children, and they always go to see the performance, no matter what the grade of excellence may be. The Palmer company is said to give the best production of the play seen in a long time. The organization consists of some of the best talent traveling. At the Grand tonight.

"Hearts of Oak"

like its companion play "Shore Acres," by the same author, deals with homely New England folks. It is perhaps more melodramatic than Shore Acres, and possesses more comedy situations. The "Hearts of Oak" quartet will contribute a pleasing portion of the entertainment. At the Grand Tuesday evening, Jan. 23.

AN EARLY PRIMARY.

It Is Stated That the Candidates Favor Holding It In February.

The Republican primaries will probably be held very early this year, and it is said the date will be February 24. It is stated that a majority of the candidates favor an early primary, and will ask the central committee to hold it in February. The matter will be settled at the meeting to be held Wednesday evening.

Going to Florida.

George E. Sebring and Frank Chamberlain, of East Palestine, will leave on February 10 for Rockledge, Florida, where they will remain for three weeks, hunting and fishing.

peripatetic court?

THE new Democratic "policy" for the Philippines indicates that the Democracy are getting ready to claim, "We did it!" as soon as McKinley restores order in the Orient.

GOOD FOR ARCHER!

Senator Archer, of this district, has introduced a resolution to have the legislature adjourn the first Monday in April—easily the best resolution introduced so far this session. The legislature has now been in session three weeks, 150 bills have been introduced in the house and about 30 in the senate.
Only a few have been passed.

AN EXAMPLE.

The revolt in Negros, where the natives accepted American rule, is an example of what might be expected if the Democratic policy of turning the Philippines over to the natives was followed out. More and more, every day, is being shown the wisdom and soundness of the policy of that safe, conservative and capable executive, William McKinley,
of Ohio.

Irwin Knight Has Been Located at New Cumberland:

The mother and stepfather of Thomas McCain, the 13-year-old boy, who came to this city last Friday afternoon from Willow Island, W. Va., have been located. The stepfather, Irwin Knight, came to Liverpool several years ago, but early last year moved his effects to New Cumberland where he secured work about the brick yards in that locality. Young McCain, who has been kept by Thomas Bridget since he arrived here, was seen this afternoon and said he would go to Cumberland tomorrow and attempt to locate his mother.

Marks Show the Ohio to Be Rising Four Inches an Hour.

The Allegheny and Monongahela are pouring out a great deal of water and as a result the Ohio is rapidly swelling, with excellent indications for a coal shipping stage for several days to come.

At the wharf at noon the marks showed 20 feet and rising. The river is rising at the rate of four inches an hour and reports from above assert that the Ohio will rise about five feet before it will recede. The stage today was the highest since last spring.

All night rivermen were watching the coal floats and barges about this city.
So far no accidents have occurred.

The Virginia went south yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock, and the several Sunday boats went up.

She claims that last evening Frank Hanley came to her rooms in the Farmer and was followed there by his wife who had Officer Davidson with her. When Hanley saw them coming he stepped into another room and locked the door, and Annie says Mrs. Hanley hit her on the nose. There will be no action until the story of the officer is heard.

TRADE OUTLOOK

In the Pottery World Has Not Been Brighter For a Decade.

The trade outlook has not been brighter for a decade. Buying keeps up well for the time of year and potter-ies are kept going steadily replenishing stocks that were depleted by the holiday and regular demand, while at the same time spring lines are being prepared.
The appearance of spring buyers can be looked for at any time now and, in fact, are already in evidence. Traveling men are packing their trunks for the regular trips and within eight or ten days the most of them will be away. Prices of staples will likely be higher the present year, if not in proportion to the advanced cost of materials, labor, etc., they will be put as high, at least, as the tariff on importations will permit.—

Over the Remains of George H.
Eardley Were Held Yesterday Afternoon.

The funeral of George H. Eardley, held yesterday afternoon at his late home in Third street, was one of the largest ever held in the city, and hundreds of friends were present to do the last sad honors to one whom they loved and respected. Rev. Jason B. Manley, of Dell Roy, an uncle of Mrs. Eardley officiated, assisted by Dr. Clark Crawford, pastor of the First M. E. church, this city. The music was furnished by a quartet consisting of Miss Pearl Sebring, Mrs. W. L. Murphy, Prof. H.
F. Laughlin and E. K. Mackintosh, with Miss Bessie Adams at the piano.
The flowers were profuse and were very beautiful. The Elks and the printers local, of which the deceased was a member, attended the funeral in a body.
The pall bearers were S. T. Herbert, Ed.
Dean, Ed. Gould, V. V. Roseborough,
J. P. Harrington and Harry Clark.
Interment was made in Riverview.

MR. AND MRS. HILTON FOUND IT

Beside a Fence Wrapped in an Old Piece of Woolen Cloth—The Township Trustees Are Notified—Albright Responded and the Child Is Being Well Cared For.

The township trustees are caring for a stray girl. Whose it is or where it came from is what the trustees are trying to find out.

A daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hilton, of Sarah street, is ill with typhoid fever, and Saturday night between 9 and 10 o'clock Mrs. Hilton stepped out in the yard to throw out some water, when she heard a child crying. She returned to the house and told her husband, and they went out and found the child lying beside the fence, wrapped in a square piece of old woolen cloth. Mr. Hilton went to city hall and was told to notify the township trustees. He couldn't give a description of the infant and Mr. Albright went home with him.

The child had never been washed and was evidently but a few hours old. Albright returned to the city, bought two suits of clothes for the baby and secured Mrs. Smith to care for it until the matter could be investigated.

The trustees have two people who will take the baby and care for it, but they want to get a good home if possible, or will send it to the Fairmount children's home. Mr. M. Southworth, superintendent of that institution will be communicated with.

It is the opinion of Mr. Albright that the baby was carried but a short distance and every effort will be made to find the mother.

BOAT WAS SINKING.

A Typhoid Fever Patient Was Removed to a House in Lincoln Avenue.

W. L. Perryner, who has been ill for 56 days with typhoid fever at the boat house of James Lane, near the S. C. Williams saw mill, was removed from that place to the home of George Shorts at the head of Lincoln avenue last night. The bottom of the boat house had been leaking for some time, but the river rose so rapidly last night that the craft commenced to sink. The attending physician was summoned and ordered the man removed. The trip was made in the patrol.

FOR CIRCUIT JUDGE.

J. L. LOCKE, OF CAMBRIDGE, WELL KNOWN HERE

Is In Washington Getting His Lines In Shape For the Position.

A Washington correspondent says: "J. L. Locke, of Cambridge, O., was here during the week and went with his wife and father-in-law to Old Point Comfort. On his return Locke will talk over Ohio politics with certain congressmen who live in his judicial circuit. He is credited with being a candidate for circuit judge in a big circuit, which comprises the counties of Ashtabula, Belmont, Carroll, Columbiana, Geauga, Guernsey, Harrison, Jefferson, Lake, Mahoning, Monroe, Noble, Portage and Trumbull. This means that Locke will have to confer with General Dick, Congressmen Gill, Van Vorhis, R. W. Taylor and Congressman Phillips. They all have counties in the judicial district. Mahoning and Columbiana, two big counties, are in Taylor's district, and they will have large delegations at the judicial convention and each of these may have candidates for the place."

Locke is a son of Dr. W. H. Locke, chaplain at Mansfield reformatory, formerly pastor of the First M. E. church, this city, and is well known to many East Liverpool people.

KICK AGAINST GARBAGE FURNACE

A Petition Is Being Circulated Today and an Attorney Will Be Present at the Board of Health This Evening—May Get Out an Injunction.

When the board of health meets this evening it will be confronted by an attorney and a petition protesting against the locating of the garbage furnace at the corner of Water and Second streets.

When the announcement was made that the new furnace would be located in that part of the city the residents objected very strongly, and their objections today took the form of a petition to be presented to the board of health tonight.

The petition has been very numerous signed, and when it reaches the board this evening it will be of considerable size. All the manufacturers in the lower part of the city are taking an interest in the matter and will make a strong fight to prevent the building of the furnace in that section.

The petitioners say that it is ridiculous to think of placing the furnace right in the center of the city, when there are plenty of sites a short distance away. They also say that it would be detrimental to the health of the city to have the garbage from the suburbs hauled into the heart of the city in order to be disposed of. They say the furnace may produce no odor, but the garbage will.

Young carriage factory in September was another big blaze, as was the Gardner block fire on Sixth street.

February—John Wucherer, W. H. Gass, L. Whit & Co., W. L. Thompson, A. S. Young, Z. B. Kinsey, Mary Z. Stafford, Robert Burford, William Brunt, Mrs. Sallie J. Kell, Jacob Grueny.

HECKATHORN IS FREE.

A LIVERPOOL MAN ENDS HIS FOUR YEAR TERM.

Bold Escape From the Penitentiary Cost Him Six Months More.

COLUMBUS, Jan. 22.—[Special]—George Heckathorn was released from the Ohio penitentiary Saturday morning, after serving four years from Columbiana county for burglary. During the state fair of 1898 he made himself famous by effecting a clever escape from the prison, but he was captured next day and returned. He was employed in the state shop, and on July 31, 1898, while a large number of visitors were going through the place, he stole a suit of citizen's clothes and after making a tour of the prison with the visitors, walked out the front gate. On the way through the prison shops he walked and talked with one of the patrol guards, who did not recognize him. Heckathorn lost nearly six months' good time for making the escape.

Heckathorn was sentenced for highway robbery. He held up John Williams, in Jethro hollow, July 3, 1896, and robbed him of $30 and valuables. He was arrested July 13 by a posse of officers at an Avondale street house.

A NIGHT OF MISERY.

RIDING IN A LOCKED BOX CAR WITH TWO SCARED MULES.

An Experience Which, According to the Victim, Made Sherman's Defen-sion of War Seem Like the Description of a Sunday School Picnic.

"Well," said the Footprint to Slug Seven as he settled down on his stool and began to throw in a handful of type, "if I didn't have a time of it getting down here out of those mountains."

"Been up in the mines?" inquired Slug Seven.

"Yep," replied the Footprint. "Just came out. Footed it from Angels to Milton yesterday and rode into Stockton on a side door sleeper last night. A side door sleeper," continued the Footprint, "is not the most comfortable mode of traveling. Personally I prefer to ride on a red cushion, but the heartless and exorbitant demand of the railroad trust for spot cash compelled me to walk or come as freight. I came as freight."

"Sore," said Slug Seven.

"The unpleasant feature of the trip," continued the Footprint, "was the base betrayal of confidence on the part of the brakeman with whom I negotiated for an undisturbed passage. For a cash consideration of six bits and a drink of liquor he verbally contracted to wrybil me from Milton to the division end at Stockton. We went up street to take the drink and—well, you know how one word brings on another. By train time the $4 I had sunk in my jeans had been fished to the surface and sent across the bar for red liquor.

"The brakeman was full when he started for the yards. So was I when I started after him. The brakeman confided to me on the way through the yards that he owned the whole train and I could ride anywhere and any way
I wanted to. I told him that I was surrounding at least a quart of Milton whisky and if it was all the same to him and he had a nice, dry, empty box car I would be shipped as an unbroken original package. He agreed, and we went over where the train was standing made up to find that empty. The brakeman ran a door open, gave me a hurried boost in and ran the door shut and locked it. After a bit I struck a match to look about and what do you suppose that cuss had done?"

"Give it up," said Slug Seven.

"Billed me as live stock, by gum!
Fact! There I was locked in a box with two mules, both loose, and all of us good to keep company to the division end. What was that Sherman said about war? Said it was hades, didn't he? Well, it ain't. It's only an imitation. The real, orthodox, rose colored hades is to spend a night in a locked box car with two mountain ranch mules.

"It isn't a long run from Milton in,
and I concluded, after the train had bumped along about three miles and those scared mules had begun to charge around and kick a rat-a-tat-tat on the sides of the car, that the only plan of campaign left to me was a flank movement and a sudden mounting of one of the animals. It wouldn't be a dream of pleasure on that mule's back, but it would be safer than dodging four rapid fire hind heels unlimbered for action. I got on the mule all right, and after a little bucking he steadied down tolerably well. The animal was evidently scared to death and seemed to take comfort in being straddled by a rider.

"Well, I was just chuckling to myself over the state of affairs in the live stock department of the Espee railway and figuring that another hour would see us in the division yards, where my friend the brakeman would open the door, when the train stopped, evidently at a siding, as I knew we weren't near a station. We bumped about a bit and I took a double wrap in the mule's ears, then we stood still while some other cars were bumped about and then I heard two short toots of the whistle and a rumble that gradually grew fainter.
The train had pulled out and we were side tracked!

"We staid there till morning, too, and I rode that son of a jackass, with a backbone like the ridge of a church roof, up and down and around that car every weary minute of all that weary night. To quit riding meant to go to sleep, fall off and have the liver and high lights and half tones trampled and kicked out of me by two scared mountain mules.

"I estimate that I rode that mule 123 miles and three furlongs in that car and the car traveled 17 miles before being side tracked. The remaining three miles of the 20 between Milton and Stockton I made on foot, thus completing a journey of 156 miles 3 furlongs in a straight line between two given points that are but 20 miles apart, a mathematically impossible feat accomplished by one jackass with the aid of two relatives on the male side of the house."

The Footprint sighed as he paused to bite off a chew of tobacco, and Slug Seven took advantage of the opening to remark that a man who had traveled so far under such circumstances must be dry.—Chicago Inter Ocean.

Have You the Gout?

The following cure for the gout is taken from an old work: First, the person must pick a handkerchief from the pocket of a maid of 50 years who has never had a wish to change her condition; second, he must wash it in an honest miller's pond; third, he must dry it on a parson's hedge who was never covetous; fourth, he must send it to a doctor who never killed a patient; fifth, he must mark it with a lawyer's ink who never cheated a client; sixth, apply to the part affected, and a cure will speedily follow.

Honest Boy.

"I am glad there are a few honest people left. Two years ago I sent a boy around the corner to buy a postal card. I have never seen the boy to this day."

"You don't call that boy honest?"

"Yes, sir. This morning I received a postal with this on the back: 'Dear Sir—Here is your postal. I started in business with the penny you gave me and have prospered. Thanks.'—Chicago News.

Kissing and Hugging Take Time.

It's all very well for you and Nellie and Emsie to unite in millions of hugs and kisses, but please consider the time it would occupy your poor old very busy uncle. Try hugging and kissing Emsie for a minute by the watch, and I don't think you'll manage it more than 12 hours a day.—Letter of Lewis Carroll.

Bismarck's Appetite.

Among other amusing reminiscences of the late Prince Bismarck appearing in Herr John Booth's "Memoirs of the Iron Chancellor" is one relating to the latter's gargantuan capacity for eating and drinking. He told the author that the largest number of oysters he ever ate was 175. He first ordered 25; then, as they were very good, 50 more, and,
consuming these, determined to eat nothing else and ordered another hundred, to the great amusement of those present. Bismarck was then 26 and had just returned from England.

Experience Versus Arithmetic.

Teacher—Johnny may stand up to recite. Now, Johnny, suppose I borrow $50 from your father and agree to pay
$5 a week, how long will it be before he gets his money?

Johnny—Just one week.

Teacher—Oh, think again; that's not right!

Johnny—Yes, it is. I know my father. He'd have you up in the courts by that time.—New York World.

It Looked Suspicious.

"Isn't your neighbor Blinkinoff a drinking man?"

"I wouldn't like to give an expert opinion on the subject. I'll admit, however, that I saw him the other night trying to drive a spigot into an ash barrel, thinking that it was cider."
—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

A Famous Eagle.

The eagle which originally decorated the stern of the famous schooner yacht America, which first won what is now known as the America's cup, is now the sign of the Royal Eagle hotel at Ryde, Isle of Wight, overlooking the scene of the vessel's triumph over her English competitors in 1851.

Warlike Boys.

All boys in the Malagasy schools are enrolled spearmen when they have passed a certain standard. They are so adept with this weapon that at close quarters they are more to be feared than the regular troops armed with rifles and bayonets.

It is said that the first weeping willow in England was planted by Alex-

The Judge's Affidavit.

Some years ago Justice of the Peace Beasley of Missouri was personally interested in a lawsuit, being a party thereto. It was necessary for him to make an affidavit, and he deprecated the idea of making it before another justice or a notary and depriving himself of a fee. So he filled out his affidavit, swore to it before himself, signed it as justice and as witness and awaited developments. He was sure that he would win and thus be able to tax the costs up to the other side.

When the case came up before Judge Kelley, the affidavit was offered in evidence and promptly objected to, the reason being given that a justice could not swear himself.

"Let me see the affidavit," said Judge Kelley.

It was handed up to the judge, who scanned it carefully for a few moments and then asked:

"Mr. Beasley, will you kindly tell me how you appeared before yourself when you swore yourself and identified your own signature?"

"That was very easy, your honor," replied Beasley. "I borrowed a looking glass and went through the formal-ties before it."

Beasley was somewhat astonished when Judge Kelley sustained the objection.—Omaha World-Herald.

An Awful Mishap.

Two passengers on an Atlantic liner,
one an American and the other an Englishman, did not exchange the farewell courtesies when the steamer reached her pier usual between voyagers who have occupied adjoining staterooms and hobnobbed during an ocean voyage. A plausible explanation was vouchsafed by the American.

During the voyage the Englishman persisted in fraternizing with the American in a most obtrusive and annoying manner. Within two days of Boston the Englishman one morning hunted up the American and found him in apparent despondency, gazing seaward from the hurricane deck.

"Confounded blue this morning, old chap. What's the matter?" And the Britisher slapped his companion on the back.

"Matter enough," growled the American. "Ship's lost; captain don't know which way to steer. Forgot to wind
the compass last night."

The Englishman listened with mouth
agape, then rushed off to tell his friends of the consequential mishap. Evidently the gullible Britisher was "pushed along" for some time until he found everybody guying him.—Boston Post.

He Knew Playfair.

The manager of the phosphate mine was a Scotchman, tall, big boned, with the strongest Glasgow Doric in his tongue. At first he was obdurate and desired us to leave the ground and to drop the specimens which we had taken before he appeared. At last I addressed him in good Scotch and asked him whether he thought I was a mining adventurer. "Aye, that's just what ye are."

"No," I replied, "I am a Scotch professor."

"Then, if ye are, ye'll be havin a name."

"My name," I said, "is Playfair."

"Man," said my Scotch friend, "are ye Lyon Playfair?"

I assured him I was, but expressed surprise that he knew the name, to which he replied, looking from his 6 feet 2 inches with compassion on my 5 feet 4 inches, "Hoot, mon, yer name's traveled farther than yer wee legs will ever carry ye."—"Letters of Lyon Play-fair."

Caught the Czar.

Peter the Great was once very neatly caught in a trap by a jester attached to the court. The jester was noted for his cleverness in getting himself and his friends out of difficulties. It happened one day that a cousin of his had incurred the czar's displeasure and was about to be executed. The latter therefore presented himself before his imperial majesty to beg for a reprieve.

On seeing him approach, the czar, divining his errand, cried: "It is no good to come here, I swear I will not grant what you are going to ask."

Immediately the jester went down on his knees, saying, "I beseech your imperial highness to put that scamp cousin of mine to death."

The czar, thus caught in his own trap, could only laugh and pardon the condemned man.—Columbian.

right of all parasites, for she frequents

Putting food into a diseased stomach

is like putting money into a pocket with holes. The money is lost. All its value goes for nothing. When the stomach is diseased, with the allied organs of digestion and nutrition, the food which is put into it is largely lost. The nutriment is not extracted from it.
The body is weakened and the blood impoverished.

The pocket can be mended. The stomach can be cured. That sterling medicine for the stomach and blood, Doctor Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, acts with peculiar promptness and power on the organs of digestion and nutrition. It is a positive cure for almost all disorders of these organs, and cures also such diseases of the heart, blood, liver and other organs, as have their cause in a weak or diseased condition of the stomach.

There is no alcohol or other intoxicant contained in "Golden Medical Discovery."

Substitutions are imitations. Imitation money is worthless. So are imitations of Dr. Pierce's "Discovery." Get the genuine.

Mr. John L. Coughenour, of Glensavage, Somerset Co., Pa., writes: "I had been doctoring for about a year and a half, being unable to work most of the time. The doctor said I had heart disease and indigestion. My appetite was unusually poor. I was weak and nervous, and my heart kept throbbing continually, and I was short of breath. Finally I wrote to you for advice. I did not think your diagnosis was right, but I ordered six bottles of 'Golden Medical Discovery' and began its use. After using three bottles I began to improve slowly and soon went to work, and I have been working ever since."

The Old Man Had Changed.

"Oh, well, then, you have a photograph of him?"

"No; I don't got no fottoğraf of him sader."

"Well, how do you expect me to paint the portrait of your father when I cannot see him and have nothing to give me an idea of his appearance?"

"All right," said the artist, "describe him."

"Vell, my fadder was not so dall und not so short; he vas not fat und not so dln." And so the honest fellow proceeded to describe his father as he recalled him.

The artist undertook to paint the picture, and in due course it is completed, and the Lancaster county man comes in to view the results of the artist's efforts. As the canvas is disclosed he gazes long and reverently upon the picture of his departed parent. Then he feelingly remarks: "Yah, dot is mine fadder! Mine fadder vat I loafed so much! But, ach himmel, fadder, how you haf changed!"—Philadelphia Times.

A Beautiful System.

The Memphis Scimitar tells of a recent bride whose husband noticed that she was keeping an itemized account of the household expenses. In looking it over one day he noticed at the bottom of each page or two the letters "D. K. W." This somewhat puzzled him. He really found it very difficult to keep from thinking about what these letters could possibly mean. It occurred to him that possibly his wife was saving out some money to buy something for him. But then he knew that his initials were not "D. K. W." and this did not prove a satisfactory solution to the matter.

So one day when his wife was in a real good humor he took her in his arms and asked what she meant by "D. K. W. 50 cents," "D. K. W. $1" and the like.

She replied: "D. K. W. stand for 'don't know what.' Whenever I went to balance my account at the end of each page and found I had spent money for which I could not account, I just put in a sufficient amount, with the item 'D. K. W.' to make it balance just exactly."

Fast Driving in Russia.

In the larger cities of Russia there is no limit to the speed at which a horse may be driven through the public streets. The typical harness horse is the Orloff, a breed founded by Count Orloff-Chemenski, being a cross between the Arabian stallion Smetanka and imported mares, principally English.

An average roadster is 16 hands high and weighs 1,100 pounds, with heavy mane, a bushy tail that reaches nearly to the ground and "iron" limbs that show great muscular development. The favorite color is gray. Such an animal is driven through the principal streets of St. Petersburg at a furious pace, that portion near the center and beside the surface car tracks being reserved for fast driving.

During the winter months teams of two and three abreast are driven to sleighs at a three minute gait. There is racing all winter, the courses being flooded at night to provide three inches of solid ice. American pneumatic sulkeys, harness, boots, gaiting appliances, etc., are in general use.

Lord Lansdowne Visits Turner.

No one was admitted to Turner's house in Queen Anne street unless specially invited. There was a sort of little iron grille in the center of the front door, through which the old housekeeper used to look and see who was there. As an example of the rarity of visitors the late Lord Lansdowne, who was a great lover of art and a friend of Turner's, told me that after receiving no answers to his letters he resolved to beard the lion in his den. He therefore went and knocked at the door, when a shock head appeared at the iron grating, and its owner called out, "Cat's meat, I suppose?"

"Yes, cat's meat," answered his lordship and squeezed himself in.—"Millais' Life of Turner."

The Aged Minister.

If his work be in a city church, it

is a grave question whether any minister can now discharge it with efficiency who is much above 50 years of age. The multitude of details in a city parish, the excitement of the life, the severe demand upon the mind and the heavy burden of responsibility call for a man in the prime of life, with an alert intellect and an unflinching body.—Ian Maclaren in Ladies' Home Journal.

"The Worstest Crime Ever."

A young negress in mourning asked the magistrate for a warrant in the Jefferson Market court.

"There is a negro who has committed the worstest crime ever," she said. "It's so awful I can't hardly tell about it. My mother died a week ago, and he done took a pawn ticket from the corpse. Now he's done took out a diamond ring on that ticket that was my mother's, and now the ring should be mine, but he won't give it to me."

"Well, that's rather bad," admitted the magistrate, signing a warrant for the offender.

The young woman returned in the afternoon in company with a well dressed negro with whom she seemed to be on very friendly terms. He was the defendant.

"What have you got to say to the charge?" the magistrate demanded of him.

"Why," the man replied smilingly, "the dead woman was my wife."

"Is he your stepfather?" asked the magistrate, turning to the girl.

"Course he is," she answered.

"And why didn't you tell me that before?"

"Cause I wanted that ring, your honor."

"Step out," said the magistrate.

A Very Foxy Fox.

A gentleman whose word cannot be doubted and who is not easily deceived tells the following:

Very early one morning he saw a fox eying most wistfully a number of wild ducks feeding in the rushy end of a highland lake. After awhile the fox, going to windward of the ducks, put afloat in the lake several bunches of dead rushes or grass, which floated down among the ducks without causing the least alarm.

After watching the effect of his preliminary fleet for a short time the fox, taking a good sized mouthful of grass in his jaws, launched himself into the water as quietly as possible, having nothing but the tips of his ears and nose above water.

In this way he drifted down among the ducks and caught a fine mallard.

Though this story seems extraordinary, it must be remembered that the fox manages to capture wild ducks, wood pigeons, hares and numberless other animals, sufficient to keep himself and family, and it is plain to be seen that in doing so he must practice many a trick that would seem improbable if related and quite beyond the instinct of animals.—Omaha World-Herald.

Killed Classical Quotations.

In tracing the decline of the use of classical quotations in legislative bodies the Boston Herald cites the case of Edward Everett, who once concluded a stately speech in congress with a long, sonorous and superbly modulated citation of a passage from Tacitus and then took his seat. No sooner was he through than up sprang a burly member from what was then a frontier state of the west. He had once been an Indian agent, and no sooner was he on his legs than he began to pour out a vehement harangue in Choctaw. After awhile the speaker called him to order.

The scene was described as very comical, but it struck the deathknell of further classical quotations in a congress that had not the ray of an idea what the unintelligible lingo of Cicero and Tacitus was driving at.

Why He Hurried.

"I fully realize that," replied the young man, who had just secured the fair one's consent. "That's why I don't want to wait."—Chicago Post.

REV. J. HENRY SHARP DEAD.

Prominent in Presbyterian Circles—
Brother-in-Law of Late Charles Clark.
PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 22.—After an illness of only three days, Rev. J. Henry Sharp, D. D., one of the most prominent ministers in the Presbyterian denomination, died at his home in this city. Dr. Sharp was chairman of the board of councillors of the Pan-Presbyterian historical Society of the United States, and in April next would have celebrated the eighteenth anniversary of his pastorate of the West Park church, this city. He held different positions in denominational enterprises.
Dr. Sharp was born in Cadiz, Ohio, in 1842. He attended school at Washington college, now Washington and Jefferson, and graduated from the Western Theological Seminary in Allegheny.
Dr. Sharp was a brother-in-law of the late Charles Clark, the millionaire of Pittsburg, who died a few weeks ago. In addition to his widow, who was Miss Semple of Pittsburg, Dr. Sharp leaves two daughters and one son. The funeral will take place Tuesday, the interment to be in the Allegheny cemetery at Pittsburg.

MORE LOCOMOTIVES FOR FRANCE.

French Railway Orders Heavy Baldwin Locomotives.
PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 22.—The Baldwin Locomotive works obtained another large order for engines from France. The order, which is for 30 large ten-wheeled passenger engines, is from the Paris and Orleans railway, and is the first order for locomotives ever placed by the company with an American firm. In design and manner of construction these engines will differ but little from the 10-wheeled passenger engines built by the Baldwins for American railways. They will be heavier than any at present in use on the Paris and Orleans railway, showing that French railway officials are awakening to the importance of heavier motive power and heavier equipment. The engines are to be shipped by Aug. 1.

ROBERTS' WEEK OF FATE.

His Case Comes Up in the House Tomorrow—Sure Not to Succeed.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 22.—The feature of the proceedings in the house this week will be the consideration of the case of Brigham H. Roberts, the Mormon representative-elect from Utah. The case has attracted intense interest all over the country. Though both the majority and minority of the committee which investigated the case agree that Mr. Roberts should not sit as a member of the house on account of alleged polygamous practices, there will be a royal struggle over the question of procedure upon which the committee has split.

The case will be called up tomorrow, and two, possibly three, days will be devoted to it. The majority of the committee hold that Mr. Roberts should be excluded, while the minority contend that he should be seated and then expelled, basing their argument for this course upon the ground that Mr. Roberts possessed all the constitutional qualifications for membership and that any attempt to exclude him, upon the theory that congress has the power to exclude him upon the theory that congress has the power to add to those qualifications, would establish a dangerous precedent that might return to plague congress in the future.

Mr. Littlefield, of Maine, and Mr. De Armond, of Missouri, who presented the minority report, will make a strong fight, and say they believe they can convince a majority of the house that the course they advocate is the only proper one to pursue. The majority of the committee, on the other hand, are confident that they will be backed by a majority of the house. Mr. Roberts is expected to make a plea in his own defense.

Should he be seated in accordance with the contention of the minority, a resolution to expel him will immediately be offered, and this doubtless will carry by an almost unanimous vote, although the majority, in their report, have insisted that, once seated, a member cannot be expelled for acts committed before he was a member of the house. Today will be devoted to District of Columbia matters and Friday to eulogies upon the life and public services of the late Vice President Hobart.

QUAY CASE THIS WEEK.

Penrose Said He Would Press for an Early Decision in the Case.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 22.—The senate again this week will devote itself almost exclusively to speechmaking. A variety of subjects will be covered. The financial bill will remain the unfinished business, but the senate will not be held strictly to its consideration. Several set speeches probably will be made upon it, among those who are expected to speak being Senators Cockrell, Daniel and Allen. Now that a day has been agreed upon for a vote it may be expected some of the friends of the bill may speak in its defense. There will be speeches on other subjects.

The two reports on the Quay contest, it was expected, will be presented today or tomorrow, and, as this contest is a privileged question, it is not unlikely to receive early attention. Senator Penrose, who is in charge of Mr. Quay's case, says he will ask that the contest be pressed to an early decision in the senate.

The Samoan treaty will be taken up again in executive session on the motion of Senator Jones of Arkansas to reconsider the vote by which it was ratified.

BRIGHT FUTURE FOR NEGROES.

Booker T. Washington So Predicted in an Address at Chicago.

CHICAGO, Jan. 22.—Booker T. Washington addressed the Young Men's Sunday club at Quinn chapel, his subject being "The Industrial Development of the Colored Race in the United States." The speaker predicted a bright future for the colored people in this country. He appealed to his hearers to cultivate a high moral character and try to elevate men and women of the race who are less fortunate.

At the close of the address a large sum was collected for the benefit of the Tuskegee Industrial School in Canada, B.

Murdered Heir's Body Found.

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 22.—The mystery surrounding the disappearance of George B. Eyre, of Chester, Pa., on Dec. 21, was partially solved when the body of Eyre was found on the shore of Raccoon island, in the Delaware river, opposite Chester. There is every indication that the theory that Eyre was murdered is the correct one.

TO OVERTHROW OUR RULE.

Details of Ambushing of Ralston's Force.

MANILA, Jan. 22.—The escort of 50 men of Company C, Thirtieth infantry, Lieutenant Ralston commanding, which was ambushed near Lipa, consisted of 50 convalescents from the hospital who were going to rejoin the regiment. The insurgents hid in the bushes along the road and opened fire upon the pack train from three sides.

The Americans, in addition to their casualties, were compelled to abandon the train, which consisted of 22 horses. The latter, with their packs, all fell into the hands of the insurgents, who pursued the retreating escort for three miles along the road, until the Americans were reinforced.

Mail advices from Negros brought particulars of the uprising last month in the southern part of the island, in which Lieutenant A. C. Ledyard, Sixth infantry, was killed. Instead of being an unimportant revolt of native police, as was at first reported, it appears to have been an attempt to overthrow American authority. The movement was started by the chief officials of the autonomous government, the men who were elected and inaugurated with so much ceremony last November.

Eleven of these officials, including the president and several councillors, were lodged in jail on charges of plotting treason. Several secured their release under heavy bonds, but others remained in prison.

General Smith had evidence that the revolting police were following the orders of the autonomous government which designed to use the forces under its control to overpower the Americans. The plot failed through being started prematurely, but Negros was in a state of uneasiness for about a week. Two companies of the Twenty-sixth infantry were hurried from Iloilo to reinforce the garrison at Bacolod.

The officials arrested included some of the most prominent men in Negros. It was believed that they will be expelled from the island.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 22.—The following dispatch came from General Otis:

MANILA, Jan. 20.—Pack train of 20 ponies transporting rations between Santo Tomas and San Pablo, Laguna province, escorted by 50 men under Lieutenant Ralston, Thirtieth infantry, ambushed yesterday; two men killed, five wounded, nine missing; pack train lost; lieutenant, with 34 men, returned to Santo Tomas with killed and wounded. Affair being investigated.

Doret, Fifty-fifth infantry, struck insurgents in Batangas mountains, prepared in ambush to meet him; he killed eight, wounded three, captured 17, one Spaniard, six rifles. His casualties, two men slightly wounded. OTIS.

FOR FUNERAL OF LAWTON.

Some of the Arrangements Made for Interment at Arlington.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 22.—According to arrangements already made by the war department, the remains of Major General Henry W. Lawton will be interred in the national cemetery at Arlington with full military honors the day after they reach this city. Previous to interment troops to compose the funeral escort will be assembled in this city to escort the remains from the church to the cemetery.

The remains of General Lawton are on the troopship Thomas and are expected to arrive at San Francisco about Feb. 1. Mrs. Lawton is a passenger on that vessel, and the final arrangements for the funeral will not be made until the authorities at Washington have ascertained her wishes in the matter.

It is settled, however, that the remains will be brought to Washington on a special train in charge of Major General Shafter, who will be accompanied by an aid. The itinerary of the train will not be determined until the wishes of Mrs. Lawton are known. It is probable that the trip will be made so as to permit the body to lie in state for a short time at Fort Wayne and Indianapolis.
